

SCORES FOR FOREIGN RELATIONS MACHINERY

FRANK A. VANDERLIP WOULD PUT TREATY MAKING IN NEW HANDS

Says That Present System is Archaic and Incompetent—Would Have Senate Selected from the People—Says the World Needs Schools to Teach the Gospel of Good Will

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 12.—Denouncing as archaic and incompetent the machinery by which the United States handles its foreign relations, Frank A. Vanderlip of New York, former president of the National City Bank, in an address here today, advocated a constitutional change which would take the treaty making power out of the hands of the president, the secretary of state and senate and place it in a "council of foreigners" to be elected by the people.

The council suggested by Mr. Vanderlip would consist of 25 members, elected from the country at large, and it would be one of his provisions that at least one half of the council should spend its time abroad so as to get the proper experience and come to understand what foreign relations really mean. Mr. Vanderlip would have the members of the council to serve for a term of at least ten years so as to give continuity to the American foreign policy, lack of which, he said, is one great fault of the political system which at this time deals with foreign affairs.

ARREST SUSPECT IN WALL STREET BOMB EXPLOSION

Noah Lerner Taken Into Custody in New York Saturday

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 12.—The Wall street bomb explosion was recalled again today when police arrested Noah Lerner, 23, an electrician, on a charge of homicide in connection with the disaster which killed more than 30 persons on September 16.

Lerner is charged with having had the wagon that carried the explosives to Wall street, the police announced. The information that brought his arrest was said to have been given to the district attorney by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doyle of Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Lerner was a resident of the Kuzbas colony in Russia to which the Doyles and their two children were sent from New York it was said, and they were reported to have told the district attorney that he had been one of his part in the Wall street tragedy.

The district attorney said the Doyles told him that while they were in Russia they were forced to take two boarders into their home, one of whom they said was Lerner.

"I am the man who hired the little red wagon that exploded in Wall street," he said he told them.

Lerner, it was said, slipped into the United States on the Homeric which arrived on May 3 last despite the vigilance of detectives both here and in various European ports, neither his sailing nor his arrival having been discovered.

Authorities had been looking for Lerner since the Doyles returned from the Kuzbas colony and told their story immediately upon their arrival. After a long search Lerner was located in Benjamin Hurst, a well-to-do section of Brooklyn.

Lerner, neatly dressed, and wore a cap covering a mass of blonde hair, was questioned in police headquarters for more than an hour tonight. Officials said he admitted he had spoken about the "little red wagon" but refused to say anything further about the explosion.

RUSSIAN SPEAKERS CONSIDER BRITISH NOTE WAR THREAT

Make Strong Talks at Big Meeting Held in Moscow Saturday

(By The Associated Press)
MOSCOW, May 12.—M. Tchitcherine, the soviet foreign minister was the chief speaker at a great meeting held in a theatre here today.

The theatre was crowded to the doors, while in the streets thousands who had taken part in a great demonstration listened to speakers from ballustrades all of whom made reference to what they termed the war threat against Russia in the British note; in the assassination of Vorovsky at Lausanne and in other recent national developments.

Referring to Vorovsky, M. Tchitcherine said: "This is a symptom of the general European situation. The direct responsibility rests with the Swiss government while the moral responsibility is on England, France and Italy, who originally invited the Russian delegation to Lausanne."

Regarding the British note, which he characterized as insolent, Tchitcherine said: "We are getting telegrams that British warships are already in the White Sea; perhaps by now they have opened hostilities against our ships."

"The note contains false facts and messages improperly deciphered, but the chief point must be considered the eastern question. We must reply calmly and firmly. Russia will not go back a single step before the demands; we therefore offer a conference. We desire peace, and do not want a break; but we will wait until the enemy attacks us."

The foreign minister was followed by war minister Trotsky, who told the cheering throng that Russia wanted peace, but the Red army was ready, if necessary. "If war comes, it will be a long one; it will delay the building up of our country for many years, but the Red army, which wants peace, will carry out its duty until the enemy attacks us."

Leokameneff, the acting premier and president of the Moscow soviet paid tribute to Vorovsky. The bullet which killed him, he said, was directed not only against Vorovsky, but against the soviet government, the communist party and the entire labor movement.

"Let our enemies think what they like," he declared, "but they will not frighten us by bullets or notes. We will continue our liberation of the east and the west." M. Bucharin, head of the left wing of the soviet central committee in more belligerent tone, said that the capitalist powers constituted a barbarous civilization. "We are telling them to go to hell," he shouted, "we will not sell our proletariat even if they send more warships."

"The meeting adopted a resolution to send a letter to J. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the labor opposition in the house of commons declaring that Russia would not yield to an ultimatum but was ready to come to an agreement if England was ready to negotiate, and also a letter to Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, head of the League of Nations, relief in Russia, asking him to use his influence against a break and possible war."

SKELETONS OF TWO ARMY AVIATORS ARE FOUND IN MOUNTAINS

Thought to Be Those of Col. Marshall and Lieut. Weber

(By The Associated Press)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 12.—Two bodies, supposed to be those of Colonel Francis Marshall, former chief of cavalry, and Lieutenant Charles K. Weber, aviator, who disappeared while flying from San Diego to Tucson, Ariz., December 7, last year, were found today in the Cuyamaca mountains of this county.

As soon as the report reached this city Major Arnold, commanding Rockwell Field, from which Weber took his last flight, having Colonel Marshall as a passenger, organized a party to visit the scene and try to identify the bodies and the machine, in whose wreckage the bodies lay. He expressed little doubt that the bodies were those of the missing airmen.

The machine in which the two dead aviators were found had been burned. Nothing was left but the skeletons of the two men.

ADMITS HE DOES KNOW WHO WROTE OBSCENE LETTERS

All Seem to Have Been Written on Same Typewriter

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 12.—District Attorney Banton admitted tonight he did not know the identity of the author of obscene poison pen letters which have been sent thru the mails to 140 socially prominent persons here and in other eastern cities.

"We don't know yet who wrote the letters or who mailed them," he said after a conference with Nathan Burkan, counsel for Geo. Maxwell, leader in social and musical circles, indicted by a grand jury charged with sending the letters.

All the "poison pen" letters, Mr. Banton said, appeared to have been written on the same typewriter. The machine, it is understood, is being sought by the police.

OFFICIALS SEEK FORMER STUDENTS IN MOUNT PROBE

Attorney Crowe Says Someone Is Covering Up

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 12.—Investigation of the supposed murder of Leighton Mount, freshman student at Northwestern University, in the 1921 class rush, turned today to a hunt for 41 former students, who left the university within four months after Mount disappeared.

Three of the forty-one and a member of the present sophomore class were brought to the state's attorney's office for questioning today. While Mr. Crowe was organizing his forces for the fresh start next week a committee of physicians appointed to examine the skeleton found hidden in an Evanston pier two weeks ago, and which has been identified as that of Mount, reported they had been unable to determine the cause of the death.

There were no signs of fractures, the doctors said, and a white substance at first believed to have been lime used in destroying the flesh turned out to be adipocere, a natural product of decomposition. The physicians fixed the age of the skeleton at around 18 years. Mount was over eighteen.

Belief that Axel Longquist, wealthy Evanston lumberman, whose daughter eloped some months ago with Fred Scott, nephew of Walker Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University, might shed some light on the events connected with Mount's death was shattered today when he was questioned by assistants from the state's attorney's office.

Mr. Longquist who brought his daughter back from Detroit and is now suing to annul her marriage, was reported to have said that if he told all he knew "it would rock Evanston."

"That is not just what I said," Longquist told the state's attorney. "What I did say was that if I told what I knew it would rock the thrones of the kings of Evanston. I mean the Scotts and others."

"What do you mean by that?" he was asked.

"I mean liquor parties joy rides and decolette parties," Mr. Longquist replied.

He said that Audrey Longquist Scott, his daughter had told him John Scott testified last week that and cousin of her husband suffered a black eye in the class rush. John Scott testified last week that he had not participated in the scrap.

Mr. Longquist promised to send his daughter to the state's attorney's office Monday to tell about a telephone conversation with Fred Scott a week ago.

"Fred Scott called my home in connection with the Mount case," Mr. Longquist told the state's attorney. "He asked for me, but I did not wish to speak to him. Audrey answered the telephone. He told her to tell me to keep my mouth shut and not talk about the Scotts or the Mount case."

Dr. Clarence Neymann, former head of the psychopathic hospital, was directed today by Mr. Crowe to examine the skull of the skeleton found at Evanston to determine whether the boy was a psychopathic case. Mr. Crowe had received reports that Mount's mental condition might have caused him to commit suicide.

Mr. Crowe also announced that he had ordered Roscoe C. Fitch, Mount's boy chum, recalled for questioning by the grand jury and also ordered the university registrar to appear and explain his reluctance to turn over student records to an assistant state's attorney.

Mr. Crowe ordered an investigation of an anonymous letter received this afternoon from a taxicab driver, who claimed to have witnessed the class rush and seen two boys ducked in the lake.

"Lei" showed fight and was loaded into an automobile to be taken to the country for further hazing. State's Attorney Crowe today said some one is "covering up" and the inquiry is far from over.

GOVERNOR SMALL'S VETO WILL COME UP FOR FINAL ACTION

Friends of the Executive Profess to See Growing Indications That His Veto Will Stand—Claim That Week's Postponement Has Proved Boomerang—Other Side Confident

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 12.—Final action on the veto of Governor Small which cut $513,000 from the biennial appropriation to Attorney General Brundage, is due in the house Tuesday, and as that day draws near, friends of the chief executive profess to see growing indications that his veto will stand.

Adherents of the governor assert that the week's postponement of action obtained by house members supporting the attorney general has proved a boomerang. They say that action on the veto was put off to enable Brundage friends to line up the necessary 102 votes to pass the appropriation over the governor's objections. But developments of this week, according to their reasoning, have sealed the fate of the $997,240 allowance.

When Republicans of all factions lined up Thursday and thwarted the Democrat's move to investigate payrolls of the present administration by passing a resolution to investigate all payrolls since 1912, the Brundage supporters lost several Democratic votes which would have been cast to override the veto, it is argued. It is conceded that many Democratic votes will be needed if the attorney general wins in Tuesday's fight.

With party politics scrambled as they are in Springfield this session, there are many angles and factors entering into the veto situation. There is the $1.85 tax rate for Chicago for one. This rate is needed by the Democratic administration, and Governor Small told its representatives that he did not approve of it. The bill is likely to pass the house early in the week, and then it will go to the executive office.

Altho only two days remain before the veto fight it is quite probable that no one knows what the outcome will be. Attorney General Brundage expressed confidence that he will win and the other camp is just as certain of success.

Representative Arthur Roe, leader of the Democrats friendly to the governor, expects the Brundage bill to get about 80 votes or 22 less than necessary to pass it. He and other Small leaders do not take the vote of last Tuesday to postpone action—102 to 41—as a real indication of the house sentiment.

Representatives Smekal, Castle, Pierce, Republicans, and Igoe, Democrat, are expected to lead the fight for the full appropriation, and Roe, Scholles, Otis Arundold and Johnson, the latter three Republicans, are slated to direct the governor's forces.

Disclosures of alleged conditions in the attorney general's office are promised by Representative Myers, Democrat, Benton, who will speak for the veto Tuesday. Unless this "battle royal" takes up all of the Tuesday session, the co-operative marketing bill also will be considered and attempts made to send it to the order of passage. Several amendments will first have to be disposed of.

Speaker Shanahan has given his assurance to proponents of the boxing bill that it will be called for passage either Tuesday or Wednesday unless the political situation interferes.

Passage in the senate of the $100,000,000 road bond bill is probable Tuesday. Its sponsors were forced this week to accept the 700-mile-a-year limit or face possible defeat of the whole bill.

The gateway amendment resolution is a special order of business in the house for Wednesday, but a similar resolution in the senate by Senator Mills, Republican, Virginia, may be acted on first.

Speaker Shanahan next week probably will name the payroll investigation committee of several authorized by the house.

TRY TO GET MOTIVE POWER IN PARLEY

(By The Associated Press)

LAUSANNE, May 12.—The allies today tried to inject motive power into the Near East conference. They told Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation that the conference cannot drag on forever and asked him to make practical suggestions for a settlement of the main issue.

It was almost a mailed ultimatum, for the allies, fear that Greek withdrawal from the conference might set the Near East aflame.

NATIONAL BANK REPORTS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Indicate Activity in Commercial Lines Thruout Country

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—A marked improvement in commercial activities thruout the United States was shown in reports from national banks on the bank call of April 3. Comptroller Dawes of the currency declared today in his first public statement since taking office.

Demand on deposit with correspondent banks and federal reserve banks Mr. Dawes said, show a reduction although loans and discounts increased. A reduction was shown in balance due to correspondent banks and bankers and demand deposits include United States government deposits with an increase in bills payable and rediscunts.

A balancing of these facts, Mr. Dawes declared gave strong indications of greater business activity and showed to an extent the increasingly rapid turn over of money in use by all lines of commerce and industry.

The total resources of 8,229 national banks which reported to the comptroller were $21,612,713,000 on April 3. This represents a reduction since the previous call December 29, of $362,244,000, but it is an increase of $1,762,311,000 since the call of March 10, 1922.

A THOUGHT.

He that laboreth laboreth for himself; for his mouth craveth it of him.—Prov. 16:26.

We ought to be thankful to nature for having made those things which are necessary easy to be discovered; while other things that are not difficult to be known are not necessary.—Epictetus.

THE REHABILITATION JOB.

There has been so much complaint about the inefficiency with which the rehabilitation of disabled service men has been carried on that it is a little surprising that the "peak" has been reached in this work. From now on it is expected that the number of men being regularly returned into industry will more than offset the new applicants for training.

There are now approximately 95,000 disabled men in training in the various institutions and schools maintained wholly or partly by the government. Even with the new applicants coming along, according to Director Hines, it is anticipated that the government rehabilitation section will practically complete its work within three years.

There is to be an especial effort on the part of the government and co-operating organizations of business men to put the disabled veterans on a basis which shall give them the best possible chance, now and in the future. Mistakes and delays have been unavoidable in many instances because of the scope and newness of the problem. But the work has been on the whole more effective than has been generally realized.

ARE WE ALL GETTING BETTER?

Is America emerging from its after-the-war moral slump? Do a little reflecting. Does it not seem to you that there is less hatred and more kindness in people's hearts now than there was not so very long ago? Have not the majority of employers shown more consideration for workers, in the matter of voluntary raising wages, than they ever showed in the past? And are not workers and their leaders acting with rational consideration for the public? Price hoarding has lately been much less rampant than had been feared; indeed, nearly all business concerns have refrained from flagrant profiteering. Never before were so many employers sincerely seeking to devise ways and means for drawing their workers closer to them. Even the enemies of our existing democratic institutions have become less violent or at least less vociferous. There is better community spirit in most places today than there ever was before. Such friend-making organizations as Rotary and Kiwanis clubs and the like have been spreading over the whole land on an unprecedented scale. Is there not less bitterness than heretofore towards corporations as a whole, and particularly towards traction and other public utility companies that come close to the daily life of the people?

Consider, too, the silent transformation in the sentiment of the American people towards less fortunate peoples in other lands. President Harding, recognizing this metamorphosis, is now championing our joining the world court, a development of the deepest significance. Our notable modification of the terms offered our foreign debtors is another straw showing that a kinder wind is now blowing here. The appointment of representatives to visit Mexico with a view to bringing about the restoration of the entente cordiale is in harmony with the general trend.

The millennium hasn't dawned. But do you not feel that, all things considered, we are becoming better, more humane, more kindly human beings.—Forbes Magazine.

HOT SUMMER? (NEA)

This summer will be a hot one, despite the late spring which has been caused by the sun giving off 4 per cent less heat than normally. So predicts Dr. Charles F. Brooks, the astronomer.

The reduced heat of the sun was to be expected, says Dr. Brooks, as a customary part of the "11-year sun spot period" which reached its greatest development in 1917 and recedes to its lowest point in 1923.

Brooks points out that the sun every 11 years normally goes thru a period of excessive activity and then a recession from it. When Old Sol is hitting on all cylinders, sun spots appear. These wane when the sun slows down and its engine cools. Not scientific terminology, but we trust we've interpreted it so it is understandable by the millions who are tremendously interested in the weather but haven't time to "study up" on astronomy.

Dr. Brooks says: "There is a paradox that the cooler the sun the warmer the earth." The period of sun spot maximum is one to two degrees cooler than otherwise.

One scientific explanation is that when the sun has a mild chill as at present, its ultra-violet rays form a blanket of ozone around the earth, far overhead. This ozone blanket absorbs and holds much of the heat which the earth radiates or gives off. (The radiation is what makes the nights cool even after a hot day.) The earth's heat starts returning back into space and the ozone blanket tends to keep it near us, the same as a thermos bottle.

So, says Dr. Brooks, there probably is at present a reduced loss of the earth's heat thru space, despite a reduction of the amount of heat we're receiving from the sun. The ozone, formed overhead by nature to counteract the sun's chill, works like asbestos around a steam pipe.

"The net result," Dr. Brooks concludes, referring to the coming summer, "should be a higher temperature, considering the world as a whole, than at the time a year or two ago when the heat received was greater."

NEW PARK HILL ADDITION TO OPEN

Sale of Lots By Jones and Buffe Will Begin in South Jacksonville.

The extensive betterments which have been in progress in the new Park Hill restricted residence district near Nichols Park have been completed, and the general sale of lots will open tomorrow. Jones and Buffe in opening this addition are adding largely to the building possibilities of South Jacksonville. A well known firm of landscape architects drew the plans for the landscaping and superintended the work. Two hundred trees have been planted and more than 2,000 shrubs, which means that each lot has been beautified together with the broad Elmwood, Chilton and Lake avenues.

This new addition is termed a restricted residence district because no house to cost less than $4,000 can be erected, no old building can be moved to any lot in the addition, a building line has been established and no lot will be available for a business or public garage.

Persons who have driven thru the district and noted the betterments have found them of a very attractive kind.

THE NEW HOTEL AND ITS NAME

Recently the executive committee in charge of the hotel campaign asked that suggestions for name for the new hotel be filed with Secretary Welch of the committee.

In a little note to the secretary Mrs. C. A. Barnes suggests "The Elms." In explanation Mrs. Barnes says: "The most wonderful and lasting thing ever done for the beauty of our city was the planting of the elm trees, and for that reason I suggest 'The Elms' as the name for the new hotel."

Dr. George H. Stacy, who altho a resident of Florida maintains an interest in Jacksonville, believes "The Jackson" a very appropriate name for the new hotel. Dr. Stacy explains his viewpoint in part as follows:

My Dear Mr. Welch:

As a suggestion for a name for the new hotel to be a reality in Jacksonville, let the writer submit the following: "The Jackson."

Both tradition and the Britannia state that Jacksonville was in all probability named in honor of the illustrious Andrew Jackson and then so far as we are concerned historical speaking, or so far as any traditional honor was concerned, he was forgotten.

Both from the standpoint of historical flavor and from practicality, The Jackson would be an appropriate name. Old Hickory is quite synonymous with Stability.

WILL GIVE UNIQUE CONCERT PROGRAM

Picture That Dramatizes Civic Co-Operation Will Appear This Week—Fred High Will Go to Waverly.

Fred High's motion picture, "The Community Builders" will be shown in Jacksonville during the coming week. It is not certain whether the picture will be a feature of the program at the big mass meeting Monday night, but if not, it will be shown sometime during the stay of Mr. High in the city.

The trip to Waverly this evening has been postponed, and Mr. High and a party from this city will go there for a noon meeting with the citizens some time during the week.

Monday morning Mr. High will speak at the high school. He will make address to various institutions, clubs and business groups thruout the week. The motion picture which he carries for such occasions as this community co-operation week is full of wholesome idealism and constructive illustrations of what can be done in a community where the people work together to serve each other. It centers around a gripping love story, which serves to hold the interest of all who witness it.

DRAMATIC CLUB WILL PRESENT TWELFTH NIGHT

On the evening of May 22, or in case of inclement weather on Thursday, May 24, the Illinois College Dramatic club will present at 7:30 o'clock on the out door stage of the campus the Shakespeare comedy Twelfth Night or What You Will.

The Illinois College Chorus, directed by Mr. A. Lovejoy will assist with choral interludes of Shakespearean songs before the first act and after the second act. After the first and fourth acts there will be group dances. After the third act there will be a duet dance by Miss Betty Palmer and Miss Leven Shunk. The dances are being directed by Mrs. Clay Elliott and Miss Betty Palmer. A first prize of five dollars and a second of two dollars have been offered to the students who sell the most tickets.

The east under the competent direction of Mr. J. G. Ames assisted by Mr. Henry Caldwell, has been working hard for some time on this play and there is every indication that it will be even a greater success than the other Shakespeare plays which have been produced by the Dramatic club.

The cast of characters is as follows:

Orsino, Duke of Illyria—Arthur Howells. Sebastian, brother to Viola—Clarence Weber. Antonio, a sea captain—Orville Foreman.

A Sea Captain—Roger Carter. Gentlemen attending the Duke: Valentine—Roy Blauvelt. Curio—Ben O'Connor. Sir Toby Belch, Uncle to Olivia—Frank Collins.

JUDGE JENKINS HAS BROKEN BONE IN FOOT

Judge C. H. Jenkins, director of public welfare of the state, and Mrs. Jenkins, are guests of Col. and Mrs. O. C. Smith at the School for the Deaf, coming to enjoy the Saturday festivities. Judge Jenkins has been bothered for some time with a very painful foot, and while here he was persuaded to visit the state hospital and have an X-ray picture taken of the injury. On examination it was discovered that the foot is broken, and as a consequence he will probably be forced to use crutches for some time.

LARGE NUMBER WITNESSES PAGEANT

Three Hundred and Twenty-Five Performers Take Part in Pageant of Health at School for Deaf—Judge Jenkins Visitor.

About five hundred people witnessed the "Pageant of Health" given last night at the school for the deaf, by three hundred and twenty-five performers.

Those who missed this performance, were unfortunate enough to miss one of the best that has ever been presented in Jacksonville. It is hard for any one who witnessed all of it to decide which part should be considered the best, as the program was unusually evenly balanced, and sufficient credit cannot be given to the physical directors, the Misses Solberger and Koester, who directed the production. In witnessing the evening's performance, it was difficult for the spectators to imagine that the performers were not normal, hearing people, as the dances and marches were kept in perfect cadence with the music and were pronounced by all to be the equal of any performance that could be given by normal people. Delays in the program, which so often happen in amateur exhibitions, were entirely lacking. More wonderful is the fact that rehearsals have only been going on for three or four weeks, and in that time it was also necessary to prepare three hundred and twenty-five beautiful costumes.

The theme was the victory of Health over Disease, and the main characters were Queen of Health, King Common Sense, Courtiers, Demon Disease, Hope, Health Crusaders, Health Fairies, Clean Teeth Fairy, Exercise Fairy, Fresh Air Fairy, Whole-some Food Fairy, Sleep Fairy, Drink Water Fairy, Soap and Water Fairy, Outdoor Play Fairy, the Trouble Imps, Sleeping with windows closed, Getting too little sleep, Eating too much candy between meals, drinking tea and coffee, not keeping the body clean, not taking exercise, not eating fresh fruit and vegetables, not cleaning teeth, and People of the Earth.

The play opens with a festival given by the Queen of Health in honor of King Common Sense. Queen is driven from her throne by the Trouble Imps, but Hope, the Queen's faithful page, calls Common Sense to the aid, and he immediately dispatches his Health Crusaders who summon the People of the Earth, and ask them to show Common Sense the way to restore Health to her throne. Then came two beautiful floats, School Nurse Service, and Dental Child. The Health Fairies demonstrate the way to health by dancing and games. Among the special numbers were:

Landum Bunches—Morris Dance. Irish dance. A modern Greek dance. Mazurka Hungarian dances. Clown dance. Spanish dance. Polish dance. Medley clog. Light and shadow. Indian club drill. Marching tactics. Football. Basketball. Baseball. Cagball. Dashes.

After the People of Earth leave, the Imps again attempt to capture the Fairies, but are overpowered and finally bound, the Queen is restored to her throne, and the pageant is ended with a beautiful Maypole Dance by the Earth People.

Judge C. H. Jenkins, director of public welfare of the state, with his family witnessed the performance, and considered it so grand that he requested the management to repeat it during commencement week, at which time it is the intention to have Governor Small witness it.

"Peg O' My Heart"

Now and then a picture is produced that stands out above the others, just as the Woolworth building stands out above all the buildings that surround it. It is such pictures as these that prove beyond any doubt that picture-making is an art. Such a one is "Peg O' My Heart"—a picture that stands out above all others. With a worth-while theme its foundation, masterfully directed and artistically acted, with its settings and general atmosphere realistic, the story creates in the mind an impression that lasts many days and weeks after one has seen the picture.

Miss Taylor created the role of Peg in the original stage play, which has been performed more than 15,000 times.

BEARDSTOWN WOMAN DIES IN WINCHESTER

Inquest Held Over Remains of Mrs. Lucinda E. Wilson Whose Sudden Death Occurred in Winchester—Other Items from Scott County Town.

Winchester, May 12.—Mrs. Lucinda Ellen Wilson passed away very suddenly Friday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Emmons, Mrs. Wilson arrived Thursday from Beardstown for a visit with her parents and was in her usual health until shortly before her death at the time indicated above. She was stricken with a sudden illness and passed away within a few minutes.

Coroner Webster was summoned and empaneled the following jury to hold an inquest: Dr. J. W. Eckman, James Blackburn, Mrs. Mary Blackburn, Mrs. Maggie Blackie, Mrs. Juanita Evans and Mrs. Lettie Evans. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict finding that death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Wilson was 53 years of age the time of her death, and is survived by five children. Her husband passed away a number of years since.

Not With Accident.
Harvey Smith met with an accident Saturday which might have proved quite serious. He was working with a small gas engine and while stooping over to examine it the engine exploded. His right eye was painfully injured but it is the attending physician's opinion that the sight has not been permanently injured. It is fortunate that the happening had no more serious consequences.

News Notes.
The district school of which Miss Ella Mae Lashmet is the teacher closed this week. Miss Lashmet has been re-employed to teach the coming term, as her services were very satisfactory during the term just closed.

Mrs. Grant Mader has returned home from White Hall, where she accompanied her mother Mrs. Mary Lilly. The latter is to spend some time with another daughter, Mrs. Alonzo Ellis, and family.

Mrs. W. B. Clark was taken ill Saturday and on Saturday night was taken to Clinton, Ill., where her brother, Dr. George Edmonson will attend her. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Miss May Andell expects to leave Sunday for Jacksonville to Service Star Legion in Regular Session

The regular meeting of the Service Star Legion was held Thursday, June 10, in Plymouth hall. After the opening exercises the singing of America, the pledge to our flag and the Lord's prayer, two selections for the violin were given by Miss Eloise Capps, with her accompanist, Miss Ellen McCurley. Nothing could have been more soothing and comforting than the sweet tones of this instrument in the hands of Miss Capps. An appropriate opening for "Gold Star Mothers' Day."

The "Gold Star" upon its beautiful banner, graced the walls and lovely flowers were on mantel, piano and table.

Dr. Pontius had kindly consented to say a few words. Only those who know and have heard Dr. Pontius, can appreciate his words of hope, as he assured us "personality can never be lost; the soul can never perish and immortality is a certainty. He spoke also of our weak point, as a people, we forget. He was glad our associations were organized under the motto "Lest we forget."

"We at first made great efforts to show our appreciation of those who have given themselves unselfishly for the welfare of others but some, too soon we cease to think of them. Only a few days ago I stood on West State street and saw a soldier borne to his last resting place, followed by a few automobiles. People were passing, but not a hat was raised, not a person stood, except a few thru curiosity. May we remember "Lest we forget."

Miss Epler was the speaker for the afternoon. She has just returned from the D. A. R. meeting in Washington and her subject was "Our Capitol and its Surroundings." From the earliest days of Washington's life and his contemporaries and thru Lincoln's administration she touched upon the shadows as well as the high lights, and several points of history were new to us. At the old Ford Theater, now used as a factory, she met and old soldier of the civil war, 85 years old, and eager to tell a sympathetic listener of his early experiences, when he was a witness to many of the stormy, stirring events of the civil war in Washington.

The address was sparkling with Miss Epler's quiet humor and original witty side remarks. An address long to be gratefully remembered.

The closing part of the program was "Greeting to Our Guest of Honor," Mrs. Dickson, by Mrs. Carrel. With the gentleness of those "who have passed under the sod" our guest likened to the words of loving remembrance spoken in honor of her, Harrison Dickson, for whom the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Jacksonville have named their post. An honor well earned, by the soldier who was true to his nation's necessities, true to his officers and comrades and true to the life his mother had cherished and trained him to lead. We, as friends and members of the Service Star Legion, rejoice in the beauty of her life so free from bitter repining, and who has said by her patient submission, "They will not mine be done." She wears the gold star and the little pin, presented by our government to all soldiers, who merit medals of honor, the pin to wear and the medal to be treasured. It came too late for him to enjoy, but was sent to his mother, a splendid reminder of the honorable record of her brave boy, Harrison Dickson.

The meeting closed with the mizpah prayer, followed by the social hour. The hostesses were Mesdames Spink, Merrill, Wood. Cake and ice cream and delicious coffee were served.

TO DEDICATE CHURCH IN SEATTLE TODAY
Rev. R. F. Thrapp Formerly of This City Is Pastor of Splendid Church Just Completed—Rev. G. L. Snively to Have Part in the Service

The new First Christian church in Seattle will be dedicated today with special ceremonies. The occasion has Jacksonville interest because the pastor of the church is Rev. Russell F. Thrapp and that Rev. G. L. Snively has an important part in the dedicatory service.

A recent issue of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, a copy of which was received by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cleary, presents a picture of the church, together with portraits of Rev. Mr. Thrapp and Rev. Mr. Snively, under the heading "Noted Pastors."

Formal invitations for the dedicatory events were received here in Jacksonville by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Douglas and some other of the intimate friends of these two ministers who thru passing years have become constantly more prominent in the affairs of the Church of Christ. Miss Mary Gray, known here, and Mrs. Anna Cleary Trafton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleary, are among the members of the Seattle church.

Rev. Mr. Thrapp can rightly be called a church building pastor, as this great edifice is the fifth to his credit. The church represents an expenditure of $162,000 not including the site.

In planning the edifice especial thought was given the religious education of adults as well as younger members and there are numerous class rooms and assembly halls. The young people's departments including a spacious gymnasium, are on the top floor. The kitchen and dining room are also on the upper floor. The auditorium can accommodate 700 persons but arrangements are such that an audience of 2,000 can be accommodated.

"We have tried," said Rev. Mr. Thrapp, "to combine three points, beauty, stability and utility," and a look at the picture of the church and a reading of the description convinces one that these thoughts have been kept constantly in mind.

Powell of Woodson was appointed to represent the County Sunday School association at the State Sunday School convention at Aurora in June, the appointment being made at an executive committee meeting of the county association held yesterday. F. J. Schofield, Mrs. Powell and Mrs. C. L. Dewey were appointed to arrange for the county convention which meets sometime next fall. A balance of $180 in the county treasury was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus McNeely and son, Byron were business visitors from Scottville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rexroat of Virginia was a business visitor in this city yesterday.

What America's Greatest Authorities on Animals Say:

AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

New York

Mr. Martin Johnson's new African picture is a wonderful picture, superior to any we have seen from Africa. My keen interest in this picture is due to the fact that, as presented, it is absolutely free from any form of fake, misrepresentation or disagreeable feature of killing or torturing animals. In vivid contrast to so many African pictures being shown, "Trailing African Wild Animals" is a real Natural History production with no "bunk" of any sort, chock full of beauty and thrills. It merits a greater success than any African picture has ever had.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

The picture is by far the finest big game picture I have ever seen. From the point of view of beauty and interest it stands all by itself. I have never been in Africa but I have been in the woods a good deal with a rifle, and have enough experience with big game to know that this picture is the real thing. None of it was taken in a zoo. It is a picture of wild animals in the wilds, and to me was so full of interest that I am keen to see it again and again. You have done me a real favor by giving me a chance to see what is certainly the best big game picture I have ever come across, and I imagine is the best in existence.

I anything more striking was ever filmed outdoors than the pursuit of those gigantic African elephants by little Mrs. Johnson, I never saw or heard of it.

AMERICAN MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

New York

It will give me pleasure to have it known that this picture meets with the approval of The American Museum of Natural History. Referring to your conversation with Mr. Akeley, I am quite willing that the introductory title of your pictures should include a caption which may read: "Indorsed by The American Museum of Natural History as a scientific record of the free wild animals in Africa, in their native haunts."

In view of the Museum's indorsement and as a part of the record of this agreement, we desire to have a copy of your picture deposited with the Museum where it will be available for research and scientific studies. It being understood that it will be used for Museum purposes only and will become a part of the Museum's reference library of motion pictures, which is intended to include only authentic natural history records.

PIGGY WIGGLY'S FATE AWAITS THE RETURN OF SAUNDERS

Will Then Know Where Future Home is to be Located

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 12.—Piggy Wiggle sat tight tonight in his Memphis home waiting the return of Clarence Saunders, its founder and directing head, from a week end "scouting" expedition and whatever the fates have in store in the selection of a future "home place" which will carry with it an adjustment of "problems" which came in the wake of its recent flight in Wall Street.

In the absence of Saunders no intimation of what was happening came from the Memphis headquarters. Nor would those in charge say where their chief had gone or the significance and possibilities of his trip.

To retain Piggy-Wiggle here Mr. Saunders had declared 50,000 shares of the stock of the company must be disposed of to protect "pool interests," which participated in the Wall Street fight which, he contended, was necessary to save his company. This block of stock was tendered at $55 a share.

PLANK ROADS ISSUE BACK IN YEAR OF '49

Old Rushville Paper Tells of Plan to Plank Roads in Every Direction from City of Chicago

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Plank roads radiating in every direction from the city of Chicago, day would be a public calamity, but back in 1849 it was a public issue.

This is indicated by a recently unearthed copy of a pioneer Illinois paper called "The Prairie Telegraph," published at Rushville in Schuyler county, many decades ago. The age worn copy was presented to Governor Small a few days ago.

In 1849, the year of the gold rush to California, Chicago had a population of around 25,000. The city then was 12 years old as an incorporated town. John Locke Scripps was a part owner and one of the editors of the Chicago Tribune. His brother, Benjamin F. Scripps, was editor of the "Prairie Telegraph." The Chicago Tribune wrote a column or two a week for his brother's home town paper, and in this "Chicago Letter" of February 17, 1849 appears the following:

"Up to the 20th of December we had a succession of heavy rains, the intermediate space being filled with up with drizzly, foggy days. The winter has been a beneficial one to our city in many ways, disastrous in others. Chicago is situated upon a 'dead level' plain from landward; in every direction to the upper crust of this plain, as is the case with the 'upper crust' generally, is not to be relied on when great interests are at stake.

"The rains, which set in about the first of October, rendered this whole tract practically impassable for teams. The 'plank road' which was intended for such emergencies, had been laid so low that in many places it was borne away by the floods. The consequence of the whole was that the fall trade with the city, from the country, was entirely cut off. "In this state of things, of course, a general prayer went up for a 'tight' freeze and good roads. "The city has learned a lesson of 'dear experience' which will redound to its future advancement. Next summer will witness the completion of plank roads along every principal thoroughfare leading to the city, at an elevation which will secure them against damage from the flood."

Almost every "Chicago Letter" appearing in those days in the "Prairie Telegraph" contained some reference to agitations for good roads—that was seventy-four years ago!

GOOD EATING ADVOCATED TO COMBAT TUBERCULOSIS Washington.—The million people in the United States continuously are sick with tuberculosis, it is announced by the United States Public Health Service in a study of the predisposing cause of tuberculosis.

Children, particularly under the age of five years, are said to be most susceptible to infection. Attention is called to the fact that tubercle bacilli are capable of remaining virulent in the human body for many years and that an apparently healthy person may lose immunity to them. The Public Health Service states that one of the commonest causes of the development of tuberculosis is poor nourishment, adding that "the well fed resist tuberculosis well; the underfed yield readily."

The service recommends better food for young children; deplors the hastily breakfasts and lunches of business men; calls attention to the generally prevailing lack of knowledge of food values, and says that diet should be suited to the age of the individual.

WILL GIVE UNIQUE CONCERT PROGRAM

Children From Millikin Conservatory to Give Concert as Alumnae Fund Benefit.

A unique musical event is scheduled for Saturday night, May 26, when 10 little children under the age of six years from the Child Culture Classes of Millikin University Conservatory of Music will give an evening recital in Music Hall of Illinois Woman's College.

This will be the Alumnae Association endowment fund concert and the plans are making which indicate that it will be in truth a very remarkable musical event. The ten little children will be assisted by four child musicians and the recital program will consist of dances, music on the different instruments, songs and rhythmic plays.

Miss Esther Reparth is director of the Child Culture department of the Millikin Conservatory of Music and under her direction very remarkable work is being done. Miss Reparth believes that every normal child is born with some distinctive tendency to talent and that it is possible thru training to discover this talent and develop it along proper channels.

The kindergarten department has come to be known as one of the features of Millikin Conservatory and employs simple, natural and logical methods for the development of children, at the pliable ages from 3 to 7 years. Methods involving stories, games, rhythmic exercises, music tones associated with bright colors and other ideas are employed in this work of development.

The child artists who will come to supplement the work of the other children are Ruth Lipscomb, violinist, aged 7 years; Ruth Talbot, soloist, aged 11 years; Aubrey Royce, reader, aged 12 years; Evelyn Swarthout, pianist, aged 11 years; Elizabeth Rannon, harpist, aged 8 years.

Willard and Firpo Win Bouts By Knockouts

Jess Stops Johnson In Eleventh; Firpo Wins Bout In Third

Firpo's Victory Was the Most Decisive of the Day—Willard Slow But Still Has Terrific Kick in His Punch—Fulton Was Disqualified in His Fight with Renault for Fouling

NEW YORK, May 12.—Two giants of the prize rings, Luis Angel Firpo, the pride of the Argentine, and Jess Willard, Kansas man mountain, stood out tonight as challengers for the fistic throne occupied by Jack Dempsey, after scoring knockout victories in the two main bouts of the Milk Fund Carnival before a crowd of nearly 70,000 at the Yankee Stadium.

Firpo demonstrated once more he is one of the most terrific hitters who has climbed to pugilistic prominence in recent years, by knocking out Jack McAuliffe II, of Detroit in the third round. Willard, while none too impressive in his comeback after years of idleness, proved himself the master of his young Iowa antagonist, Floyd Johnson, and was awarded a technical knockout after eleven rounds of the most spectacular battling on the card.

These two bouts, both scheduled for fifteen rounds, were headliners of a card of five heavyweight fights, one of the most spectacular fight programs ever staged in this country, and a magnet for a picturesque throng that all but filled the great Yankee ball park. Official figures were lacking tonight, but it was estimated that the throng was at least 5,000 less than the crowd of 74,000 which packed the stadium at the opening American League baseball game recently. It was a record for a boxing show in this state, but far behind the attendance figure of more than ninety thousand at the Carpenter-Dempsey bout two years ago.

Gate receipts were announced unofficially by Tex Rickard, promoter of the show for the municipal Milk Fund benefit, as approximately $300,000.

Two of the three other bouts on the card besides the main fights, also were terminated before the limit. Mack Renault, of Chesam, Quebec, Canadian heavyweight champion, was declared victor over Fred Fulton, Minnesota plasterer, on a foul blow in the fourth round after the Canadian had piled up a substantial lead in points.

In the other preliminary matches, Harry Darale of England, was awarded the judges' decision over Joe McFarlane of Newark, New Jersey, in a four round encounter, while Tiny Jim Herman of Omaha, Nebraska, knocked out Al Reich of New York in the sixth round.

Firpo's Victory Decisive
Firpo's quick victory over McAuliffe, highly touted westerner who vied in the second round and collapsed in the third under the South American's terrific barrage of rights and lefts to the head and body, was the most decisive bit of ring work of the afternoon but the triumph of the forty-year-old Willard over a youngster seventh, gaining applause with his aggressiveness, but in the eighth, Willard shook him with another crashing upper cut. Fighting back gamely but ineffectively, Johnson slipped to the floor a few seconds before the bell.

The tenth saw Willard waiting for his chance to shoot over the deciding blow and in the next the beginning of the end was in sight with Johnson reeling about the ring under a measured attack to the jaw. The Iowa boy fell headlong to the canvas from a jolting uppercut just before the bell rang and lay inert. He was carried to his corner in a dazed and helpless condition and his seconds quickly tossed in the towel in token of defeat.

McAuliffe-Firpo Bout
McAuliffe, debonair, and a shifty boxer, danced about Firpo, in the first round of their encounter, worrying Luis with a jabbing left but that capped the climax of his efforts for the day. Noticeably weary of the South American's wicked right, McAuliffe did his best to keep out of reach, in the second, but was driven to cover in distress toward the close of the round.

Coming from his corner with a bull-like rush in the third round Firpo flailed McAuliffe unmercifully, beating down all defensive attempts as he swung to the jaw after one minute and two seconds of fighting in this round sent McAuliffe sprawling for the count of ten and doomed any championship aspirations he may have entertained.

While McAuliffe obviously was no match for the giant Argentinean the victory boosted Firpo's championship stock and convinced critics that he is perhaps the most dangerous of the present crop of contenders for Dempsey's title. His foot work and defensive ability, the still crude in spots, showed marked improvement over any of his previous efforts. He gave every evidence of rapid development under the expert tutelage of Jimmy D'Forrest, veteran trainer, who conditioned Dempsey for his successful battle against Willard at Toledo four years ago.

Fulton Disqualified
The unfortunate termination of the Fulton-Renault match was a disappointment to the crowd but it was filled with action until Fulton's low blow caused his disqualification after two minutes and 24 seconds of the fourth round had elapsed. The bout was scheduled to go ten rounds.

Renault, a heavy hitter, was the aggressor from the start and also he found difficulty penetrating the clogged Fulton's defense landed the most damaging blows.

Herman and Reich engaged in a bloody encounter, scheduled for eight rounds, the former scoring his knockout in the sixth after an aggressive battle from the start. Herman suffered a jagged cut under his left eye early in the first preliminary.

Rain that fell for a couple of hours this morning threatened for a time to cause cancellation of the program and undoubtedly had some effect in preventing the attendance of a record fight throng, but it was decided definitely at 1 o'clock to start the show after the sun had broken thru overcast skies. When the first fight was called Old Sol was blazing down on the arena with the warmth of mid-July.

Weights of the principal participants in the heavyweight carnival were as follows:
Willard, 248; Johnson, 195; Firpo, 212; McAuliffe, 200; Fulton, 214; Renault, 190.

FIGHTERS COMMENT ON BATTLE RESULTS

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 12.—Jess Willard, 46 year old fistic come-back, showed the elation of a 10 year old boy in the dressing rooms after his conquest of Floyd Johnson.

"I think I proved that I'm not so old, pugilistically, as they thought," declared the big Kansan, who here hardly a scratch about his head or body from Johnson's punching.

"Johnson fought as game a battle as any man I ever was up against," continued Jess, "but I never was in danger. I purposely held back in the early rounds, waiting for my chance for I knew I could finish him before the limit."

"I never was in better condition than I am right now. I'm ready to fight Firpo or anyone else to prove that I'm entitled to a return match with Dempsey. I'm more confident now than ever that I'll regain the crown I lost to him four years ago."

"I fought the best I could," Johnson declared, crestfallen by his defeat, but not discouraged.

"He was too big for me, that's all."

Firpo, the "Silent man of the ring" took his latest laurels with the display of outward taciturnity that has marked his previous conduct. He received his congratulations with but little comment, while his defeated antagonist, McAuliffe, confined his post-battle remarks to a laconic admission that the South American was the toughest boxer and hardest hitter he had ever encountered.

WILLARD AND FIRPO WILL BE MATCHED

NEW YORK, May 1.—Jess Willard and Luis Firpo, victors in the two star bouts of the milk fund boxing carnival today at the Yankee stadium, will be matched in a fifteen round contest to decide a championship opponent for Jack Dempsey, Promoter Tex Rickard announced at the conclusion of the show.

The fight, he said, probably would be held in the Yankee stadium, June 30.

"I want to match Willard and Firpo just as soon as possible," Rickard declared, "and the winner probably will get a crack at Dempsey on Labor Day, either at the Yankee stadium or Boyle's Thirty Acres. Both are ready and anxious to sign and I hope to arrange the contest for the Saturday before the Fourth."

Rickard said that in his opinion, Willard had staged a remarkable come-back, considering the odds he was against. Firpo, he said, had proved beyond a doubt that he is one of the greatest natural fighters uncovered in years.

Do you know Baseball?
by Billy Evans

Questions
ONE—If a fielder has the ball in his possession ready to touch a base runner, and after so doing, the ball is deliberately knocked out of his hands by the runner, what is the proper decision?

TWO—If a runner on first, believing that a fly ball is not going to be caught, starts to advance and has nearly reached third base when the fielder makes the catch does the throwing of the ball to second base before he can get back there, double him up?

THREE—If after a batted ball goes through an infielder, a base runner in the opinion of the umpire deliberately kicks such a hit ball, what is the proper ruling?

FOUR—If there are less than two men out and a runner on third, and the batsman interferes with a play at the plate on such runner, who is called out?

FIVE—If a base runner who tries to advance on a hit to the infield, stops in front of a fielder making a play, long enough to obscure that fielder's vision and cause him to lose the play, what happens?

Answers
ONE—The runner should be called out for such an act.
TWO—In order to properly make the play, the runner should either be touched with the ball, or it should be thrown to the base he occupied when the ball was hit, and in this instance it was first.

THREE—The base runner should be called out for interference.
FOUR—The runner coming home from third should be called out for the batter's interference with less than two out, such right to stop, and if in the opinion of the umpire, his actions were responsible for the loss of the play, he should be declared out.

RICKEY DEVELOPS MANY STAR PLAYERS

Manager of St. Louis Cardinals seldom buys a Player—Believes in Getting Them Young and Train Them to be Stars.

(By Billy Evans.)
"Get 'em young and train them to be stars." That is the theory of Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics originated it. Rickey is a firm believer in its efficiency.

The theory followed so religiously by Mack and Rickey is in direct contrast to that of Manager McGraw of the Giants, Miller Huggins of the Yankees and a majority of the major league leaders.

The system of Mack is beginning to bear fruit as far as the Athletics are concerned. Mack is positive that the experimental days are over, that his team has arrived. Mack has a young ball club. If his high hopes are justified, his club will be in the running for a number of years to come.

Sister Protege of Rickey
Rickey brought George Sisler to the front. Sisler didn't cost him a cent, coming direct from the University of Michigan. The judgment of Rickey relative to young players is shown by the number of promising youngsters on his pay roll who were secured without the outlay of a single penny.

Prior to the opening of the season the Chicago White Sox paid $100,000 for Willie Kamm, while McGraw handed over $75,000 for O'Connell and $65,000 for Bentley, practically a quarter of a million dollars for three players.

Rickey can't see the percentage in such extravagant expenditures. A few of Rickey's young stars with the Cardinals can be catalogued as follows:

Stars Secured Cheap.
First Baseman Jim Bottomley; found in the semi-pro fields of Nokomis, Ill. Purchase price nothing.

Outfielder Ray Blades—Graduate of high school circuit in St. Louis. Found by Rickey, developed in minors. Purchase price nothing.

Outfielder Clarence Mueller—Graduate of the Municipal League in St. Louis. Found on home lots. Developed in minors. Purchase price nothing.

Catcher Harry McCurdy—Graduate of University of Illinois. Purchase price nothing.

Pitcher Edwin Dyer—Converted into an outfielder. Graduate of Rice Institute at Houston, Texas. First year in professional baseball. Purchase price nothing.

Shortstop Flegan, who has replaced the veteran Johnny Lavan in the Cardinals' lineup, is a protégé of Rickey's from Ohio Wesleyan University, the alma mater of the Cardinal manager.

Another young infielder who gives great promise is Holmes from University of Iowa. Holmes is a shortstop, but is mighty versatile and can play elsewhere.

Rickey insists that Outfielders Blades and Mueller are just as good ball players as Jimmy O'Connell. He also desires to emphasize the fact that neither Blades nor Mueller cost him nothing.

Roger Wethered Is Winner of British Amateur Golf Title

Twenty Four Year Old Englishman Defeated Roger Harris, Scotchman, in Brilliant Exhibition of Golf—Winner Gives Display of Super Golf, His Opponent Says

DEAL, England, May 12.—Roger Wethered, 24 year old Englishman, became the amateur golf champion of Britain by his victory in the final round here today over the Scotchman, Robert Harris.

Wethered captured the coveted honor by a series of brilliant matches which were termed by the veteran, J. H. Taylor, as "super golf" but his victory today was a comparatively easy one after his task yesterday in defeating Francis Ouimet, the last of the invading American amateurs to survive in the tournament.

At no time today was Wethered in danger, and he was able to dispose of his older opponent—Harris is 41—by a score of seven up and six to play in their 36 hole match. Rain, a bitter north wind, and at times even hail, this afternoon harassed the golfers, but Wethered gave no indications of flagging, and continued his flawless play until the last stroke.

Harris was unable to withstand the intensity of the game and when the weather was at its worst he was visibly tired.

Wethered's approach shots and putting gave him the lead on the second hole and he was in front all the way thru, ending the first round of eighteen holes four up.

He was able to increase his lead to five on the first hole in the afternoon round by sinking a five yard putt for a four. The next seven holes were halves.

Harris lost the next one when he pulled into a bunker. The tenth hole was halved and Wethered became dormy seven on the eleventh. On the twelfth Harris made a gallant effort to sink a long putt, but it stopped two inches from the cup, the hole was halved, and the title went to Wethered.

The victor was given lusty cheers by the gallery of 3,000 who followed the pair despite the weather. His sister, Joyce Wethered, who has been competing in the British ladies' open championship tournament at Burnham where she lost her title arrived in time to see her brother come in a winner.

COLUMBIA DEFEATED RUTGERS ON TRACK
New York, May 12.—Columbia defeated Rutgers in a track meet today by a score of 2-3 to 44 1-3.

REDS WIN OPENING GAME OF SERIES
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 12.—Cincinnati today took the opening game of the series from Philadelphia in rather easy fashion, 12 to 3. The Reds made four runs in the first inning, and the Phillies picked up three runs in the fourth and fifth innings on a homer by Cy Williams, his thirteenth of the season. In the sixth Cincinnati scored seven runs on five hits, clinching the victory.

GOLF MATCH AT PARK COURSE TODAY

A special match has been arranged with George Knight, professional of the Illinois Country Club, Springfield, and Arthur Masters, pitted against Jack Keywood, Jacksonville professional, and Marcy Osborne.

A large gallery is expected when these players meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

ALL PLANS COMPLETE FOR CHURCH JUBILEE

Committee Makes Final Arrangements for Catholic Celebration—Many Minor Activities Scheduled—Brief History of Church Is Given

The final plans for the Jubilee Celebration of the Church of Our Savior have been perfected and all is in readiness for the various phases of the undertaking. The public meeting at the opera house Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock will be entirely in charge of the citizens. It is planned to have state, county and city represented by speakers or officials of the different departments.

The meeting will be called to order by John W. Clay as the general chairman in charge of the jubilee, who will introduce E. E. Crabtree, mayor of Jacksonville as permanent chairman of the meeting. Judge H. P. Samuel representing Morgan county will address the meeting. Andrew Russell, auditor of public accounts of the state will represent the wider constituency. The principal address will be by Hon. Edmund Burke of Springfield; the address of the parishioners of the Church of Our Savior will be given by J. J. Kelly. Father Formaz will have the closing address in response to those preceding. The program will be interspersed with pleasing musical numbers including a solo by Terrence Brennan, also one by Mrs. Brennan and a duet by them.

As has been said this is a citizens' meeting and has been called in response to the wishes of those whose would find it difficult to in any other manner express their approval of the accomplishments which have made for the spiritual and civic betterment of the community by the church. All citizens regardless of affiliations will feel at home in this typical American assemblage.

Celebration Notes
For the greater comfort and convenience of those who may come from other points the Knights of Columbus will hold open house at their home on East State street for the two days of the jubilee. Committees will be in charge to see that all desires are properly cared for.

The alumni of Routt college will give a luncheon at Liberty hall at 5:30 p. m. on Routt Day, May 16, for the visiting clergy, present students and the alumni, the husbands and wives of the alumni will also be welcomed.

The committee is desirous that all funds that are to be used in this jubilee be in the hands of Tom Duffner, treasurer, not later than Monday afternoon. All bills should be in the hands of the chairman of the various committees in order that a complete check be made of the available balance.

Story of Growth
A brief summary of the events which this celebration is designed to commemorate will be of interest and the secretary prepared the following: Beginning with the original settlement of this region by white men down to the year 1853 the few Catholics were cared for as a mission with headquarters in Springfield, an idea as to the extent of territory originally regarded as belonging to this parish may be gained from the fact that since 1853 parishes have been established in Winchester, Murrayville, Franklin, Alexander, Ashland and Waverly. The records show that in all this considerable territory when the missionary efforts commenced, there were but six Catholic families.

In 1853 when the Church of Our Savior was first established there were 300 people in the congregation and a rude church was erected on North Main street. In 1869 growth enough to justify the building of a new church on East

State street was manifested. Since that day the various parishes have been carved from the original district and notwithstanding the growth has continued. Twenty years ago the congregation after the cutting off of the various parishes alluded to still numbered 1,500. The growth has been healthy and sustained until we today have 3,000 souls.

The first school was started in 1853 and was conducted by lay teachers, after the building of the present school, the teaching was taken over by six Dominican Sisters. At the present time there are seven sisters teaching 260 pupils in the under grades.

In 1903 a Catholic High school was started with Father Formaz and Sister Regina in a building now used as a dormitory to Routt college. Eight pupils constituted the start of this enterprise. In 1905 the college was started and the high school course was lengthened in 1912, a boarding school started with six boarders. In 1914 the high school was accredited to the state university.

The growth of the schools has been in proportion to the growth of the church as will be evidenced from the fact that one hundred and twenty-five students are receiving instruction from eight teachers in Routt college—twenty-three of these students are boarders.

It can be readily seen even from this brief outline that there is much cause for congratulation, and the people of the city are going to manifest their approval using this jubilee as a means to that end. These events touching as they do, the life of everyone in this community deserve a fitting recognition as has been stated no citizen will be debarred from a participation in this celebration.

HOSPITAL DAY AT OUR SAVIORS

National hospital day was appropriately observed Friday at Our Saviour's hospital when several hundred people accepted the invitation to inspect the building. The afternoon hours were from 2 to 5 o'clock. There were some special decorations and in various ways this occasion was made a notable one.

In the evening pupil nurses of the hospital gave an interesting program, in addition to the numbers by the nurses informal addresses were given by Dr. J. W. Hargrove and Dr. R. V. Brokaw, county health officer. This program was given in recreation hall with a large audience in attendance. A social hour followed and the occasion was in every way enjoyable.

HORSE RUNS AWAY IN BARNYARD

Saturday evening, as John Starks, driver for York Brothers, was unhitching his team, preparatory to watering them, one tug in some way became fastened to the single-tree hook, frightening one horse so that he ran away, taking the wagon with him. The horse circled about the lot until the wagon struck the southeast corner of the barn, when it tore loose from the horse. Results were, one damaged wagon, one badly damaged barn, a great deal of broken harness, two other horses breaking loose in the excitement, and one scared driver, who had barely time to get out of serious danger.

HOWARD BROWNING SUFFERS INJURY

Shoulder Blade Fractured When Clothing Catches in Fly Wheel of Gasoline Engine.

Howard Browning, residing on route three, northeast of the city suffered a fracture of the left shoulder blade, a bad scalp wound and other injuries about the neck and shoulders Saturday afternoon when his clothing caught in a gasoline engine he was operating.

Mr. Browning was engaged in pumping oil from one of the wells located in that vicinity and was alone at the time. When his clothing caught he was whirled around by the wheel several times until his clothing gave way. He was able to get in his wagon and drive to his home and Dr. T. O. Hardesty was summoned.

The injured man was brought to Our Saviour's hospital where an X-ray examination revealed the injuries as indicated above. He was given the necessary treatment and later removed to his home. No serious results are anticipated but Mr. Browning considers himself fortunate that he did not receive more serious injuries.

INDUSTRIAL EXHIBIT ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Many Attend That Given By School for the Deaf Saturday—Results of Field Meet.

A great treat was enjoyed by the visitors who inspected the industrial exhibits at the School for the Deaf yesterday.

On entering the grounds, the first thing to greet the eye was the new fountain at the main entrance which is now complete, throwing beautiful sprays and giving a fresh touch to the surroundings.

The industrial exhibits included art, printing, baking, cooking, dress-making, photography, carpentry, shoemaking and leather work, and many other branches of the work of the students. In the art exhibit, which included many wonderful works, perhaps the most wonderful was the batik work, in imitation of Japanese workmanship, being performed with beeswax and dyes.

In the photography department, it was shown how little children were trained in the beginning, and up to the time that they were entirely capable of managing a studio.

Since last September, when the millinery department was first opened at the school, about one hundred and fifteen hats have been made and trimmed by the students, and all are of the highest class, showing both skill and taste.

In all departments, the display was so wonderful that a complete description would be impossible, it being necessary to see it to fully appreciate what has been done by the students. The food display especially would make any man hungry.

As an additional entertainment, the different classes staged a field meet during the morning, which was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd. Results of the field meet were:

Standing Broad Jump—George Mikk, 7 feet, 31 inches.
Running Broad Jump—William Johnson, 15 feet, 6 inches.
Climbing Rope, 16 feet—Howard Huggins, 24.25 seconds.
Baseball Throw, Distance—Howard Huggins, 162 feet, 61 inches.

FARM WOOD LOTS
COMING INTO FAVOR

Growing Scarcity of Timber Is Cause—Total Value Estimated at $6,269,000.

URBANA, Ill., — The growing scarcity of timber in Illinois is bringing the farm woodlot into favor as a source of a valuable crop, according to F. W. Schreeder, member of the state forestry field force. The total acreage of farm woodlots in Illinois in 1920 was 3,162,579, with a value of $6,269,000. This will be reduced year by year, unless replanting is stimulated, said Mr. Schreeder.

Information obtained from 400 Illinois farmers indicates that the average farm contains 354 acres. Fifty acres, or about 14 per cent of the average farm was wooded, and the figures from the 400 indicated.

Complication of results on clearing for farming and pasture showed that within the next few years this 50 acres is to be reduced to 34 acres, or there will be a reduction of 31 per cent of the present timber stand for the farms represented, Mr. Schreeder said.

The 16 acres which is slated for clearing will be about equally used for farm and pasture land, inquiry as to the amount of land which might be planted or reforested showed that an average of five acres should be planted, being considered more valuable for forestry than for farming. The average amount of forest plantation for each farm was only one acre.

"The value of the woodlot to the farmer as revealed by the an-

TO HONOR THOSE WHO
SAVE LIVES OF ANIMALS

Chicago — A movement has been inaugurated by the American Humane society to award medals to men, women and children who risk their lives in saving the lives of animals, according to an announcement by the Illinois Humane society, a member of the national body.

The idea originated following the receipt of information of two rescues from death of dogs recently. One told of two men who rowed a boat thru a field of ice in the Kennebec river in Maine to reach two collie dogs who were floating down the river on a piece of ice that had been torn loose as they were sitting on it.

The other case was where two men in New Jersey rescued a dog that had been sucked down by quick sand until only its head was showing. Its pitiful cries had aroused the men during the night, and the darkness, combined with a fog and quicksand at almost every step, made the rescue work extremely dangerous, but the men found the dog after much tedious hunting, and worked two hours before they got the animal out. Each man sank to the waist in quicksand.

The National Humane society, according to the announcement, will attempt to have a "national bronze service medal" made available for award to those who perform similar feats.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller were Saturday shoppers in Jacksonville.

AUSTRALIAN GOLD SURPLUS TO GO INTO CIRCULATION

Sydney, N. S.—Gold coinage is likely to be in circulation again in Australia within 12 months, according to financial experts, when exchange will reach parity again. The embargo on the export of gold still is operative, and it is pointed out that Australia could not allow free shipment of her gold if Great Britain did not do the same.

It is believed here that the agreement for funding the British debt to the United States will hasten the resumption of gold payments in the United Kingdom, and it is understood that as soon as the example is set in England it will be followed immediately in Australia.

Gold production has declined heavily in Australia, but the gold reserve against paper circulation stands among the highest in the world. The latest not issue returns show that the value of notes in circulation is 52,652,000 pounds sterling, with 24,426,000 pounds in gold, or 46.4 per cent held against it.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

There will be a Senior violin recital on Thursday evening, May 17th by Suzanne Rinehart, assisted by Fredericka Balch, soprano. The public is cordially invited.

Miss Sapio and Miss Horsbrugh have been invited to give a joint recital at the W. E. A. F. radio station, New York on the evening of June 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart, Suzanne Rinehart and Miss Sapio and Miss Horsbrugh motored to Waverly on Monday to visit the Community high school. Miss Rinehart gave a short program of violin numbers at the morning assembly, which was received most enthusiastically and after which the visitors were taken over the school and were present at some of the classes.

The programs for the Children's festival on May 24, 25 and 26 are unusually interesting and varied. Demonstrations will be given by the different classes and their teachers and an award made to the pupil having done the most faithful practice. Miss Sapio will also give two prizes to those children who have the best scrap-books and the books will be passed around to the audience to see the interesting material gathered.

Where Quality Counts

One third of the cost of a good plumbing, heating or electric job is for work hidden from sight beneath walls and floors, and underground. Costly trouble is sure to develop unless this "unseen" work is properly done. Reliable materials and skillful workmanship cost less in the end—and we supply 'em.

Doyle Bros.

Phone 118
225 E. State St.

Melody-writing will be another new feature of the demonstrations, while the members of the Junior String Ensemble will give proof of their training in two pieces arranged for violin quartet.

Mrs. Horsbrugh will be at home to several I. W. C. friends on May 13 when Suzanne Rinehart will be heard in several of her recital numbers. Katherine Erickson and Margaret Curtis gave piano solos at the last meeting of the girls' club at the high school.

Patricia Speith was heard in piano solos at a Benefit evening given on Thursday by the Christian Endeavor of Northminster church.

Things That Count in Moderate Priced Closed Cars

The Coach is a Hudson-Essex invention. It was created to provide closed car comforts at little more than open car cost.

Closed cars, on high-grade chassis, were too costly for most buyers. So a revolutionary thing was done.

An entirely new closed body design that eliminated all the old, costly manufacturing methods was invented. And production on a scale unknown in the closed car field was started. It brought closed car comforts within reach of all.

The Coach is durable. More than 40,000 owners are proud of it. It has a simple and sturdy beauty. There is ample and comfortable carrying space for passengers and luggage. Body rumbling noises are totally absent. Doors and windows stay tight fitting.

The Coach is built for service. On either the Hudson or Essex chassis it is ready always for any use.

My Youth Cream

Keeps me looking like a girl

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Mine is a grandmother's age. I have been a stage star for 32 years, and am still. Yet most girls in their teens envy my complexion—as soft and rosy as 40 years ago.

Scores of my beautiful friends have secured like results from the methods I employ. Millions can do so, I believe. So I have arranged so that all who wish may get the very help I use. I count this a duty to my sex.

A Two-Fruit Cream

Today I wish to tell you of a wonderful cold cream. I learned the secret from French beauty experts many years ago.

I call this my Youth Cream. It embodies both lemon and strawberry. I believe this to be the only cream which combines these great skin beautifiers.

But those French experts have discovered other secrets. They have learned how to soften, whiten, feed and smooth the skin. They seem to know the secrets of perennial youth. And certainly my Youth Cream—their creation—has helped bring that to me.

I Still Look 19

I apply my Youth Cream at night on retiring. Also in the daytime as a powder base. Night and day I keep it ever on my face to foster the fine texture of the skin. And my skin is like a baby's.

Compare my Youth Cream with the cold creams you have used. You will thank me or telling you about it. If it brings you half what it brought to me, it will be a life-long delight.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is supplied by all druggists and toilet goods dealers. Price, 60c. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my White Youth Clay. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

I hope you will let my Youth Cream show you how much my helps can do.

REBEKAHS PLAN BIG CAMPAIGN

Meredosia Lodge Will Build Up Social Side of the Organization—Other News From Meredosia and Vicinity.

Meredosia, May 11—The members of Rebekah lodge No. 151 at their regular meeting Thursday evening decided upon a plan for the upbuilding of the social and good will spirit of their order. Each sister's name is to be written on a slip of paper and placed in a large capsule. The capsules are then to be placed in a container from which each sister will draw one capsule, and the name on the inside will reveal to her who her capsule friend is, but must be kept a secret until the time expires which will be at Christmas time and will close with a large gathering of the members to enjoy an old-fashioned Christmas tree loaded with gifts for the various capsule friends, which will reveal the identity of each ones secret friend of the several months. During this period of time each one must plan deeds of kindness and show exceeding courtesy for the sisters welfare whose name is contained in the capsule in her possession. The spirit carries with it the teaching of the order, "F. L. T." and will no doubt prove quite successful. The plan is a very novel one and those in attendance at the last meeting seemed much enthused over it. The capsule drawing will take place on the next regular meeting night, Thursday, May 24th, to which sister of the order is requested to be present.

The examinations were conducted under the very stringent rules as laid down by the American Red Cross.

Studebaker

THE BIG-SIX SPEEDSTER, COMPLETELY EQUIPPED AS ILLUSTRATED, $1835

$45,000,000 Worth of Studebaker Big-Sixes in 1922

The public paid more than forty-five million dollars for new Studebaker Big-Six automobiles in 1922, buying more of this model than of any other car selling in the same price field.

In the entire world there were only eleven other automobile manufacturers whose total sale of all models equaled the sale of Studebaker Big-Sixes for 1922, and no other manufacturer sold as many cars of the Big-Six class. In addition to the Big-Six, Studebaker builds the Special-Six and the Light-Six in large volume.

For the first quarter of 1923, Big-Six sales showed an increase of 70 per cent over the same period of 1922, evidencing the growing popularity of this model. Big-Six popularity is the result of Big-Six superiority. Materials and workmanship are unexcelled in any car at any price, and unequalled in any car at the Big-Six price.

With its long 126-inch wheel base, big 4 1/2-inch tires, heavy frame, scientifically distributed load, long Studebaker-made springs, the Big-Six Speedster rides more comfortably than most cars selling at much more money. Its 3 1/2 x 5 motor delivers a world of power, plenty of speed and a quickness of getaway hard to equal.

The price is the result of quantity production.

The name STUDEBAKER is assurance of quality. It has stood for high grade transportation for seventy-one years.

Two extra wheels complete with tires, tubes and tire covers. Trunk and dust-proof cover. Nickel-plated bumpers, front and rear. One-piece rain-proof windshield. Automatic windshield cleaner and glare-proof vision. Courtesy lamp. Tonneaulight with long extension cord. Combination stop-and-tail light. Quick-action cowl ventilator. Eight-day clock. Lasting Satisfaction in the Hupmobile Satisfaction is perhaps the one word which best describes the feeling of every Hupmobile owner.

Satisfaction — with the faithful way it performs the tasks he sets for it to do; with the fact that it requires next to nothing in the way of expert care and adjustment; with low costs that stay low all the year 'round.

Satisfaction, in short, because the Hupmobile always does the things he wants it to do in the way he wants it to do them.

Sound Assurance of Value

Two pieces of furniture set side by side may to all exterior appearances seem to be exactly alike. The finish appears the same. But there can be a very big difference — in the quality of them. Only by the service they give can you tell. After a short time one begins to crack and peel and warp; the other will serve for years without showing a sign of depreciation. One is so-called "bargain furniture"; the other is high grade. The only way to be sure of getting the high grade is to deal with a house that respects the confidence of its customers. The years of satisfactory service given by this store is sound assurance of value. Below are examples worthy of your consideration.

JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, SECTION THREE SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 13, 1923

PUBLIC SHOWING DEEP INTEREST IN OUTDOOR SPORTS

Crop of 1923 Fans Promises to Exceed all Records in History of Sport—Baseball,
Boxing, Racing and All Sports are Drawing Record Breaking Crowds This Year

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 12.—The 1923 crop of fans in outdoor sports bids fair to exceed all records. Baseball has started off with unparalleled patronage; reservations for the leading horse and automobile racing events indicate enormous crowds, and the prospective summer program of outdoor boxing, especially among the heavyweights, doubtless will draw many thousands.
Arrangements for handling spectators have been largely expanded in every spectacle from baseball and football to horse racing, and still seems inadequate.
The New York Yankees' new park was opened to 74,200 baseball fans, with 25,000 turned away. The Chicago Cubs' enlarged park April 22 enclosed 38,000 persons, and thousands stood on the playing field. New baseball parks in other cities were similarly favored.
The management of Churchill Downs, Louisville, Ky., has expanded seating facilities to care for some 30,000 persons for the Kentucky Derby May 19, but confidently predict that the total attendance at the historic event will approximate 100,000.
Legislative interference having been overcome, promoters of the Memorial Day auto race at Indianapolis are going ahead with preparations to handle a crowd of 150,000.
With a heavyweight boxing contest certain for this summer, and a meeting of the principal heavyweight contenders already arranged, the fan crop in the padded mitt division appears as flourishing as any. Chicago's first openly conducted boxing match for nearly 20 years drew 15,000, the utmost capacity of the Coliseum, early this spring, and subsequent contests have been almost as well patronized.
The first day's attendance at the four American League parks was 138,200, slightly more than double the 1922 opening crowd. The National League opened to 95,300, 2,000 more than in 1922, but the Giants opened away from the home crowd at the Polo Grounds, somewhat reducing the total. The American Association's five park openings drew almost as many fans as in all the eight cities of the circuit last season.
The great increase in the number of public and private golf courses last year has added thousands to the ranks of the fans who will be eager to witness the American championships of the links this summer.
The University of Illinois opens its new stadium this fall; Nebraska asked recently broke ground for a new athletic field to be ready this fall, and Minnesota is conducting a drive for a new stadium, in response to the wave of popularity which has carried football to the peak of public interest.

The Davis Cup matches for world supremacy in tennis are scheduled for Forest Hills, Long Island, again this summer, adding opportunities for the tennis enthusiasts to swell the ranks of attendance on outdoor sports. A new tennis stadium is being built by the West Side Tennis Club and will be completed by September.

COMMODITY PRICES ARE HIGH ENOUGH, SAYS BABSON

The Statistician Discusses Present Situation in Relation to Bonds

Wellesley Hills, Mass., May 11. 1923.—The radical recovery of commodity prices from August 1921 to date, has brought general business above average and is the foundation for the reasoning of a good many who have predicted increasing prices thru 1923. Therefore, Roger W. Babson's statement on the situation, issued today, is of unusual interest.
"There have been five major movements in commodity prices since the beginning of the World War," says Mr. Babson. "First, we had a great rise from early 1915 to the peak in August 1919. Immediately at the close of the war prices suffered a sentimental decline. Then post-war inflation caused a steady rise from the spring of 1919 to the middle of 1920.
"As depression set in the worst commodity panic in economic history carried us over the middle of 1920 to the low of August 1921. The fifth phase of the movement has been a 19 month's rise during which time prices have climbed over 30 per cent—an abnormal development.
"The reasons for this recent uprising give us some indication as to its probable development. It was caused by an increase in physical production, and has continued until today it is above the normal growth line. Total volume of business has increased until it is slightly above normal. Monetary conditions have been and are very good, with large volume of circulation, strong volume of Federal Reserve statistics, good turn over, and sound credit conditions.
"A shortage of transportation has stimulated buying. Wages have increased substantially. Purchasing power of the industrial community has been reflected in better business. Even the farmer, who was hard hit as gradual climb out of his financial chaos. The upward trend of the stock market and new construction figures add two more arguments to the bullish side of the ledger.

"The present technical position of the commodity market, however, is very similar to that of 1920. Production has reached a point where we cannot hope to consume at such a rate indefinitely. Many commodities are being made so fast that they must of necessity pile up surplus stocks by 1924. The present administration is also adverse to further inflation. Car shortage has been reduced to one-third of what it was and more favorable weather conditions and seasonal changes in business cannot help but clear up the traffic situation.
"Since the present market is being adequately supplied there is little justification that increasing prices of commodities can long continue. The cost of living and commodity is still too high and is destined during the next few years to recede to a lower level. European conditions are still unfavorable, and until a construction program is announced we cannot reasonably expect a further radical stimulation of business.
"The growing reluctance on the part of the buyer to stock up on high priced merchandise is an indication of the end of the upward rise by 1924 at the latest. The underlying structure is probably strong enough to justify moderate advance in some lines and a higher average commodity price level for some months longer; but it is probably that prices by or before 1924 will turn for a reaction. As the advance slows up and transportation difficulties are solved, buying will cease off and general business should fall back to a level below normal. This slackening will ease money rates and should cause bonds to again take up their long swing rise."

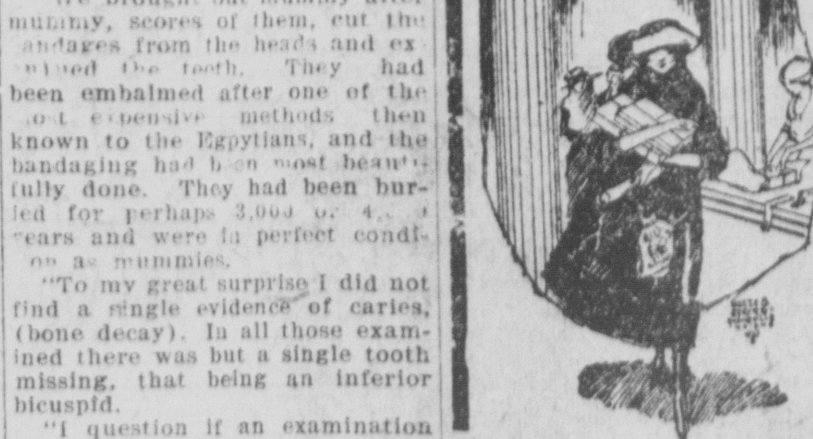

DEAN OF DENTISTS TALKS AT DECATUR

Dr. Edward T. Dabry of Philadelphia Addresses Illinois State Dental Association—Has Been Practicing 61 Years

DECATUR, Ill.—A declaration that teeth are undoubtedly decaying more frequently than they did 3,000 or 4,000 years ago as shown by an examination of the teeth of many Egyptian mummies, was made by Dr. Edward T. Dabry of Philadelphia, who spoke here last week before the Illinois Dental Society convention.
Dr. Dabry's inspection of the mummies was made more than 50 years ago in a rather unusual manner. He is one of the deans of the dental profession in America, having begun practice at the age of 17 back in 1862. He has been practicing for 61 years.
"It was my privilege to have been in Egypt during the Franco-Prussian war, when the Frenchman who had charge of the mummy pits of Sakkarah was locked up in Paris which was besieged by the Germans," related Dr. Dabry. "An old shiek, who lived in a little hut in the desert, not far from the pits, was left in charge of them during the Frenchman's absence. I asked to dragman if he thought I would be permitted to take possession of those pits, pull out the mummies, cut the bandages from their faces, and examine the teeth. He thought not, unless I made it a great object to the man to go away and leave me with the dead. I suggested that if we put a sovereign over each eye he would not see what I was doing. The suggestion proved a good one, and after standing about for a few moments he went to his hut and 'did not return.'
"Examined Mummy's Teeth.
"We brought out mummy after mummy, scores of them, cut the bandages from the heads and examined the teeth. They had been embalmed after one of the most expensive methods then known to the Egyptians, and the bandaging had been most beautifully done. They had been buried for perhaps 3,000 or 4,000 years and were in perfect condition as mummies.
"To my great surprise I did not find a single evidence of caries (bone decay). In all those examined there was but a single tooth missing, that being an inferior bicuspid.
"I question if an examination of an equal number of civilized people today would reveal such a condition of the teeth.
"It is undoubtedly true that teeth are more prone to caries than they were 3,000 years ago, and yet I am led to believe that the American people have better teeth than they did 50 or 100 years ago. How much of this is due to the greater care given them and the service of the dentist I cannot say.
"Many years ago Dr. Magitot of Paris examined 10,000 teeth (I take it they were extracted teeth) and he reported the following: Of first molars there were 3,350 decayed, of those 1,810 were inferior and 690 superior. This table showed that the molars were more susceptible to decay than any other teeth in the mouth. I am quite sure that every dentist would certify that his observation has been the same."

SMALLER ROOMS REDUCE DEMAND FOR CARPETS
Berlin—As Germans moved into smaller living quarters, because of high rentals, the need for floor coverings declined proportionately. At the same time prices continued high on account of the heavy import duties on raw materials, and out of both these conditions there resulted a buyers' strike. People dispensed with new carpets, or got along with what they had before.
Now carpet prices have fallen from one-third to one-half, but even so a domestic covering nine by twelve feet costs the equivalent of $100, and there are few buyers.
All household furnishings bring good prices today in Germany and many former officials of the old government have sold their apartments and moved into small tenement houses where life is begun anew.

RUGBY FOOTBALL FIRST PLAYED 100 YEARS AGO
Rugby One hundred years ago the "Rugby" game of football was evolved during the course of a game at Rugby school, which has just erected a tablet to commemorate the event. The inscription reads:
"This stone commemorates the exploit of William Webb Ellis, who with a fine disregard for the rules of football, as played in his time, first took the ball in his arms and ran with it, thus originating the distinctive feature of the Rugby game. A. D. 1823."

COOPERATION BRINGS BETTER RELATIONS IN INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

Sincerity of Purpose and Frankness and Desire for Right Labor Relations Basis of Successful Employer Representation—Survey Made by Cleveland Chamber of Commerce

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, May 12.—Sincerity of purpose, frankness and a desire for right labor relations are the basis of successful employer representation, according to the executives of 16 large manufacturing concerns here, all of which have in operation well developed systems of workers' committees with a voice in the affairs of the company.
In a survey of the operation of the plans in these establishments, each of which employs more than 300 workmen, made by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, it is set forth that, while in some instances the plans are intended to promote departmental co-operation, increase efficiency and production, or reduce labor turnover, in most cases a desire to improve relations between employer and employe is the fundamental reason for their installation.
The executives, as a rule, contend that a mutual spirit of co-operation must be present before this basis of successful representation can be made actual.
Other outstanding features of the executive's opinion, as reported by the committee, were:
"Advisability of educating employes as thoroughly as possible regarding sound economics in order that they may be assisted to consider labor relations from a sound viewpoint.
"Representatives of employes should be selected by and from their own number and should be assured by their employer that no discrimination will be made against them because of anything said or done in their respective capacity.
"There should be no limitation preventing employe representatives from considering and formulating recommendations regarding any phase of the company's activities concerning housing, wages, and all other matters properly affecting their relationship."
The report stated that in most instances in the 16 companies included in the survey, the companies do not attempt to restrict the subjects which employe committees may discuss with the management, eleven plants permitting unrestricted discussion and five providing for considerations of any subject affecting employment conditions.
Except in one of the plans, there is no provision to the arbitration of differences between employes and the management. The committee did not find any instance where there had ever been a request by the employes for outside arbitration.
In all the plans the committee found that where employe recommendations have been disapproved, a full explanation was given. In eleven instances it was claimed that the employe representation had improved the morale of the organization. Seven executives noted decreased labor turnover. In six cases the executives concluded the plans developed a more intelligent co-operation on the part of employes, while in several plants the results were stated to have increased efficiency and production; the development of intelligent leaders among employes; the promotion of the employe's economic education, and the production of suggestions reducing costs and improving conditions.

MARCH HARDEST MONTH FOR DISEASE
Springfield, Ill.—March is the hardest month to survive contagious diseases in Illinois, according to classified mortality statistics for 1922 released by the state department of public health.
From the same report it appears that pneumonia is the greediest of contagions, having taken a toll of 6,664 lives, while tuberculosis came next with a total of 5,589 deaths to its credit. After these two the most fatal contagious diseases for last year were influenza, which caused 1,674 deaths and diphtheria which caused 1,174.
Mortality declined very definitely last year, as compared with the year before, from the principal contagious diseases except from pneumonia and influenza, both of which caused rather marked increased mortality. The decrease in actual number of deaths from tuberculosis was less marked than for the other diseases. Deaths due to tuberculosis fell from 5,593 to 5,589 in 1922.
George Hart of Prentice was a city caller yesterday.

Telephone Talk No. 17

"Do not hang up the receiver when you get the wrong number!"

These are some of the causes for WRONG NUMBERS, the blame for which rests partly on the Telephone User and partly on the Telephone Company: A subscriber may speak indistinctly; He may trust his memory when calling a number; The private exchange operator, who has other duties to perform while watching the switchboard, may be at fault; The figures in the number may be unconsciously transposed by the subscriber; Not infrequently the subscriber in his haste does not pay proper attention to the exchange prefix, and a wrong number results.

When you get the wrong number: DO NOT HANG UP THE RECEIVER; Move the hook up and down SLOWLY; When the operator answers, tell her she has given you the wrong number and again give her the number wanted and she will try to complete the connection.

By getting the operator and explaining the mistake, you protect yourself from an overcharge, as she will not register a message on the meter on the switchboard until your connection has been correctly established.

THE DIVINITY OF CHRIST

By James Bond, Franklin

I take it for granted that all Christians believe in the existence of an Almighty Supreme being the maker creator, and sustainer of all things, whose word is infallible and whose power is unlimited, whom the English speaking people call God. I believe in this God, I believe in God, the son born of a virgin (nothing impossible to this Almighty being). I believe in God, the Holy Ghost and the Holy Catholic church, etc. I also most firmly believe in the existence of the devil, his time is short and he knows it. He has been very busy of late and is increasingly so.

I also most firmly believe the Bible. It was written by God-fearing men, inspired by God. I wish to make it plain here that God does not always use godly of Godfearing men to accomplish His purposes, perhaps they are not to be found when needed for the accomplishment of His purpose.

Take for instance Cyrus, king of Persia, when the time came for the fulfillment of God's promise made to the Jews seventy years before, that after seventy years of captivity they should return and rebuild Jerusalem. When the time expired God put it into the heart of Cyrus, the king of an idolatrous nation, to give them permission to return and furnish them with means and an escort and gave them letters of introduction to the Persian government of that district, Jerusalem being inhabited by poor Jews and Samaritans, the descendants of the poorest of the Jews that were left at the time of the captivity.

I firmly believe in the divinity of Christ and believing the Bible, which is full proof, His conversation with the woman of Samaria is a plain proof. My readers, at your leisure get your Bible and turn to St. John's gospel, fourth chapter and commence with the third and read to the forty-fourth verse. In these verses we read that Jesus Christ and His disciples were in Judea and were about to start to Galilee and Jesus said, "I must needs go thru Samaria" and I infer the disciples said: "Master, that is out of the way and besides the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans." But there was a need, His disciples did not know the need. As He traveled He came to a city of Samaria called Lychar near to a parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son, Joseph and Jacob's well there, and Jesus being weary with his journey sat there on the well. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith unto her, "Give me to drink." (His disciples were gone into the city to buy meat). Then saith the woman of Samaria unto Him, "How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest a drink of me which am a woman of Samaria, for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans."

We pass on to the sixteenth verse, Jesus saith unto her, "Go call thy husband and come hither." The woman answering said, "I have no husband." Jesus said unto her, "Thou hast well said, I have no husband; for thou hast had five husbands and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband. In that saidst thou truly."

The woman said: "Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. I know that when the Messiah cometh, which is called Christ, He will teach us all things." Jesus saith unto her, "I am He." His disciples came and marveled at His talking with a Samaritan woman. The woman then left her water pot and went her way into the city and saith to the men, "come see a man which told me all things that ever I did. Is not this the Christ?"

What a testimony! What do I gather? This man being the Son of God and knowing all things, both past, present and future, even to the innermost thoughts of men's hearts. He knew He was needed in Samaria. He knew a certain woman would be to Jacob's well at or near Lychar at a certain time. He knew all her past history. He knew she expected the Messiah. He knew there were quite a number in Lychar ready to receive Him. What more proof do we need? He knew all her past history. Truly this is the Son of God.

In the 19th chapter of Luke commencing with the first verse we read: "Jesus entered and passed thru Jericho and behold there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the chief among the publicans and he was rich. Now these publicans were native Jews. They had authority as Roman officers to assess and collect certain taxes for revenue. They were local agents who knew the people and their ways and were employed by the Romans to raise the required amounts.

We must not condemn all not even if nine-tenths were dishonest and grafters and oppressors. There is nothing said in the Bible to lead me to believe Zaccheus was such a character. Let us find out what the Lord Jesus Christ says. As Jesus was passing thru Jericho this man Zaccheus wanted to see Jesus (having heard of Him no doubt) but being little of stature and the crowd being so great, he did not see a chance of getting to see Him, so he ran ahead and climbed up a sycamore tree.

Jesus knew Zaccheus was up in the tree. He knew Zaccheus wanted to see Him and Jesus knew his name. Jesus knew Zaccheus' past life and his history, every good and bad deed, as well as He knew the life history of the woman of Samaria, and when Jesus came to the tree He looked up and saw him and said unto him, "Zaccheus, make haste and come down, for today I must abide at thy house and be thy guest." And he made haste and came down and received Him joyfully.

Now I ask my Christian readers, what do you think of Zaccheus? Was he a hypocrite? Was the Lord Jesus Christ deceived by him? I think not. He had not a word of condemnation to say to him. I consider him a righteous Jew (whatever others may say to the contrary). I do not find anything written in the Bible that leads me to think Zaccheus was a dishonest man or a grafter. I believe the Bible, that dear old Bible. No revised edition for me.

I learn that when I leave this earthly tabernacle I have a home prepared for me, eternal in the Heavens. I love my dear old Bible. It is the abstract of my title to a mansion in the skies.

Diamond Grove Memorial Mausoleum

Procrastination in many matters of need is frequently directly the result of one's interest in his affairs of business. Business, however important, can in no wise nor in any manner, alter the certainty of Death. Diamond Grove Cemetery is the most beautiful and the best kept cemetery within a radius of many miles and on Lincoln Park, the most beautiful spot in it, will be built Diamond Grove Memorial, a community Mausoleum of daily increasing proportions. The interests of purchasers of space in Diamond Grove Memorial were carefully safeguarded by the Cemetery Board and City Officials, in that a definite proportion of strength for the building was established and a complete list of specifications for materials adopted. Thus subscribers to space in this beautiful memorial were protected from the inception of the canvass.

The statement must stand that there will be built only such space as is sold and the better locations are growing fewer day by day. Make secure your future by choosing your preference of space now, for when our campaign of selling closes it will be too late. Appreciate the certainty of a sense of relief in considering such a method of tenderly caring for, rather than merely disposing of our dead.

S. W. NICHOLS WRITES AGAIN FROM TUCSON

Tucson, Ariz., May 8, '23.
Dear Journal: Without doubt this city excels almost any place of its size in the country in the way of public affairs of all sorts. The State university has much to do with this matter and then comes the Mexican neighbors with a call to the public; the Southern Pacific, or "Espee" road as it is called, asking the public to unite in some demonstration.

Sunday there was another big rabbit drive when several hundred bunnies bit the dust. By the way, I never had any idea of the evil wrought by these little creatures till I came to this place. Farmers say a half a dozen jack rabbits will destroy a whole acre of cotton in a short time while all other growing crops are ruined by them.

The rocky places about the mountains supply such fine breeding facilities for the little creatures and then they hasten forth to their work of destruction. When a man spends large sums of money to irrigate his crop and get it started it is exasperating to see it swept or eaten away by the rabbits. They have announced another drive for Saturday and hope to have a large attendance and a round up of several hundred rabbits. But speaking of public affairs and special occasions; the one now on the boards is the visit here of Commander A. M. Owsley of the American Legion. Certainly Tucson knows how to entertain celebrities of all sorts and make them feel at home while being honored and Commander Owsley is no exception.

He has been wine (on tea and coffee) and dined till he must almost be surfeited with the amount of honors heaped upon him. He made a earnest address setting forth the objects for which the Legion stands.

Hospitalization for disabled men.
Americanization.
Naturalization.
Regulation of immigration.
Compensation for ex-service men.

Immigration Restriction.
His plea for restriction of immigration was impassioned. He told how Europe is dumping her undesirable on us as fast as possible. Southern Europe is the chief source of our immigrants today and they bring with them a manner of evil propaganda. They congregate in cities and number among them men studiously engaged in undermining our government. They largely populate our insane and other charitable institutions while hosts of newspapers in foreign languages spread evil doctrines.

Smuggling across the Mexican border has become quite a business and unprincipled scoundrels go among the innocent in Southern Europe and persuade the would be immigrants to give them large sums of money to guide them to the United States and in many instances the poor, deluded dupes are detected and sent back.

A sad case of this kind took place recently. A brother and sister innocently gave the savings of a lifetime to a couple of this kind and he brought them across the Mexican border and guided them to their friends in a distant state where they were apprehended and compelled to return to their native land.

A man interviewed six hundred able bodied men waiting or hoping for admission at Ellis Island. But twenty of them meant to go to work as laborers for which occupation they were all only fitted; all the rest hoped to have peanut stands or peddle's packs, anything but honest labor.

Another careful student of affairs visited Italy and other Southern European lands and interviewed hundreds of would be immigrants and only with rare exceptions did he find one who desired to come to America to work and get an honest living and be naturalized. The greater part of them wanted to be bootleggers, peddlers, peanut vendors, anything to accumulate what to them is a fortune and go back to the fatherland to enjoy it.

Was Deeply Impressed.
At Pastime park, four miles north of this city, is one of the government places where the disabled veterans of the world war are kindly cared for and Commander Owsley was deeply impressed by what he saw there.

It is a tract of 35 acres rented by the government for U. S. veterans' hospital No. 51. Work was begun there a few years ago in a small way till now the place has a capacity of 285 beds and a visit to it well sets forth its beneficent work and if it be any criterion by which to judge other similar places surely our government is doing a good part by its incapacitated defenders.

Since December, 1920, the government has expended there $286,000 in all sorts of structures and appliances for the welfare of the occupants. The plan of the hospital comprises fifty cottages, a receiving ward, infirmary ward for bed patients, a surgical ward where joint, bone and spinal cases are treated and major operations performed.

In that building too are the X-ray apparatus, dispensary, eye ear, nose and throat clinics. For the care of the ambulant and semi-ambulant patients fifty cottages, each housing four patients are located in the rear of the above mentioned wards. This plan has been found very satisfactory as it affords opportunity for the men, in most cases, to choose their bunk mates and enable them to "keep house" in a way they like. And it is interesting to see the various ways in which the boys have made their abodes pleasant and home like. A grotesque variety of names also adorns many of these cottages. "Dinky Moore's," "Do Drop Inn," "All Inn," "Saint's Rest," "Dove Cote," and others. It made me think of the names chosen by the chautauqua campers at home. Then there are the laboratory, nurses' quarters, general kitchen, mess hall, administration building, occupational therapy building which has a space for the library, Red Cross and K. C. huts and supply rooms. Cool pure water is supplied from two deep wells with ample pumping facilities while a new sewage system has recently been installed at a cost of $23,000.

There are in the staff, including the medical officer in charge, and the executive officer, who acts as clinical director and assumes charge in the absence of the commander; also the two dentists, consulting surgeon, twenty nurses, three dietitians, six occupational therapy aides, one educational director, librarian, registrar, chief clerk, and a contract officer who assists the patients in adjusting claims and securing vocational training.

In all departments there are about 150 employees about the place. Including the wards, transportation services and free department.

Kindly Feeling Exists.

The kindly feeling existing between officers, employees and veterans is pleasing. As a rule there is a spirit of contentment evident and the men are cheerful. When a patient is first admitted he is sent to the hospital or receiving ward where he is kept about ten days till his case can be fully diagnosed. He is tested for tuberculosis, whether his disease is active or inactive, has thorough physical and laboratory tests and is then assigned to the proper place according to classification.

In the surgical ward are performed the bone and spinal and major operations and in this they have the co-operation of a high class surgeon from the city. The infirmary ward has bed patients only and these are served with food in trays prepared in the diet kitchen.

In the cottages are men who have graduated from the other wards and these men go to the mess hall for their meals and care for their cottages. They get an occasional pass to visit the city and even sometimes are permitted to be away for several days at a time. They must observe morning and afternoon rest hours, have temperature taken twice a day and thus remain till discharged and sent home or to vocational training.

As soon as a patient becomes quiescent or inactive a daily five minutes walking schedule is provided beginning with five minutes and kept up till three hours is reached. The value of occupational work is well known and here seventy per cent of the men are busy with either academic or craft work.

What is Taught.

There are for this six aides or instructors and the line embraces bead work, wood carving, wood, metal and leather work, knitting, weaving, short hand, type writing, business, English, Spanish, and arithmetic are some of the branches studied or applied.

The library is open from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. and is stocked with books, magazines and daily papers and is much enjoyed. Then all sorts of entertainments are provided and in this the good people of the city and different organizations participate. For some time the boys themselves have had weekly boxing exhibitions in a hall in the city bringing in regular professionals and employing a large patronage which generally pays the expenses of the bout.

The expenses of the enterprise are of course great. Monthly operation costs about 42,000 in salaries, subsistence, laundry, etc. Then the patients receive monthly $26,000 by way of compensation and insurance.

This is but a brief and meager outline of the conditions at Pastime park, but in it is a sample of what is being done for the afflicted world war veterans they are being well cared for.

S. W. Nichols.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

F. C. Trotter of Sinclair and C. Cox of Clark's Chapel are going to get the required number of boys and girls in his community to form a local pig club. The boys in that locality are interested in the pig feeding contest.

E. E. Drury is co-operating in the farm bureau in making an extensive test of the utility of corn compared to the high or most widely known type corn. The seed for two trials of twenty and five acres have been carefully selected according to physical characteristics so as to get it disease free. The field plots of the ordinary run field corn have also been planted.

C. A. Rowe has ordered the set car load of limestone this season. He has a very good demonstration on his place of the advantage of using limestone as an aid in getting a stand of clover. Where limestone has been applied he has a perfect stand of clover and very little clover where it has not been applied.

Illinois College Notes

Among the historical treasures recently received by President Rammelkamp in the effort which he is making to collect material relating to history of the college, is a letter from William H. Herndon, Lincoln's law partner, written to Dr. Julian M. Sturtevant, March 9, 1864. The letter relates to a lecture which Herndon was evidently preparing on some subject relating to the mind. He sent a copy of the lecture to Dr. Sturtevant and asked for his suggestions and criticisms. The letter has been donated to the college archives by Miss Lucy E. Sturtevant. Miss Sturtevant has also recently donated to the college a photograph of Professor Crampton, in military uniform, and an old photograph of the campus showing the fences in front of Sturtevant hall.

The annual banquet of the New York Alumni Society of Illinois college was held at the Hotel Astor, April 28. About thirty guests were present. The society felt honored by the presence of Mrs. Edward A. Tanner, greatly beloved by all alumni who were students in the college when her husband was president, and by Mrs. Helen M. Dwight, daughter of Reverend William Kirby, one of the founders of the college and always a generous friend. Miss Elizabeth Kirby, another daughter of William Kirby was also present. Dr. Charles B. Russell, '99, president of the society, acted as toastmaster. The toasts were rather informal, many of the guests being asked to make short responses. Frederick C. Tanner, '98, was the first speaker. President Rammelkamp was present and spoke at some length on the present conditions and future prospects of the college. The substantial progress which the college has been making in recent years is always a matter of great interest and enthusiasm to the alumni in various parts of the country. One of the most entertaining responses of the evening was made by John M. Slapp, formerly professor of English at the college, and now engaged in editorial work in New York. The officers elected for next year were Byron C. Darling, '98, president, and Frederick C. Coleman, '01, secretary and treasurer.

Everett Dean Martin, '04, has an extended article recently in the Evening Star of Washington, D. C., entitled "Dance Craze for Psychologists and Not Police," in which he criticizes the effort of the police to stamp out the marathons dance craze. It is mainly according to Mr. Martin, a name which in time will run itself out and is more a disease for the psychologists to deal with than a crime for the police to stamp out. The address which the Rev. and William E. Barton, D. D., of Oak Park, Ill., recently delivered to the students of Illinois college on the "Education of Abraham Lincoln," will shortly be published under the imprint of the college. The pamphlet will contain a facsimile reproduction of the letter which David Rutledge wrote to his father and sister, Ann. Any friends of the college who may desire to have a copy of this pamphlet with the facsimile reproduction of the Rutledge letter should send a postcard to the president's office.

Carlyle Antrobus, '22, came over to the interscholastic meet Saturday with the contestants from Camp Point where he is teaching and coaching. Floyd Lashmet, ex-'21, came up from White Hall with the high school contestants from that town. Lashmet is teaching in the White Hall high school.

The electric wiring has been put up on the college campus for the play, Shakespeare's Twelfth Night which will be given on the evening of May 22. The play will be staged just in front of Beecher hall in the same place where other college plays have been staged.

ATTENTION MOOSE Our first regular meeting will be held at our new home, Woodman Hall, south side Square, Monday, May 14th, 8 p. m. A full attendance is requested. JAS. D. PIKE, Dictator CHAS. BLESSE, Secy.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to take this means in thanking those who so kindly assisted during the illness and after the death of our husband and father, Albert Brown. We thank the U. B. of F. and especially those who sent flowers and furnished cars. Mrs. Hester Brown and Daughters.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MAY MEETING

New Officers Chosen at May Breakfast of Jacksonville Woman's Club Yesterday—Mrs. J. F. Buckley New President

The breakfast was served by the Pastoral Helpers in the dining room of the Christian church.

A new tube free with every Vacuum Cup tire. Buy now.—Brady Bros.

There were twenty tables, each handsomely decorated with quantities of spring flowers and candles and presided over by two hostesses.

The invocation was by Mrs. R. A. Gates and following the serving of the breakfast came a brief program. Mrs. A. B. Williamson, the retiring president, briefly expressed her appreciation of the cooperation of the club members during her two years term as president. Mrs. Williamson said that it was the duty of every club member "to endeavor to think clearly, speak fairly and act discreetly, with a spirit of charity and to stand for the right as we see it." She urged members to extend the same hearty co-operation to the new president that had been given during her term. A pleasing feature of the program was a group of songs given by Madame Colard of Illinois Woman's college, who sang in a way which met the hearty approval of the company.

The general arrangements for the breakfast were in charge of Mrs. J. W. Chipchase, assisted by Mrs. Clark Green.

Mrs. George S. Rogerson, the treasurer, made a report which indicated that the club's financial affairs are in very satisfactory condition. Mrs. A. H. Dollear, recording secretary, and Miss Violet Davis, corresponding secretary, also presented reports.

The newly elected officers of the club are:

President—Mrs. J. F. Buckley.

First vice president—Mrs. W. D. Roberts.

Second vice president—Mrs. William Floreth.

Recording secretary—Mrs. A. H. Dollear.

Corresponding secretary—Miss Violet Davis.

Treasurer—Mrs. E. E. Sovern.

Assistant treasurer—Mrs. Ernest Stout.

Yesterday's hostesses were Mrs. A. B. Williamson, at Woman's club table Mrs. T. H. Buckthorpe at Round Table group; Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson, Mrs. Louis Hauck, Mrs. George Baxter, Mrs. A. E. Curry, Mrs. E. E. Crabtree, Mrs. P. P. Brookhouse, Mrs. W. C. Bradish, Mrs. C. Gergachneider, Mrs. E. L. Fletcher, Mrs. H. P. Mohr, Mrs. E. L. Hill, Mrs. E. D. Herald, Miss Minnie Green, Mrs. Robert Mullenix, Mrs. Clarence York, Mrs. J. J. Reeve, Mrs. Lulu VanHouten and Mrs. A. D. Arnold.

Their assistants were Mrs. John P. Buckley, Mrs. George Fuhr, Miss Mary Knollenberg, Miss Irene Smith, Mrs. Eugene Caldwell, Mrs. A. A. Curry, Mrs. J. L. Johnson, Mrs. W. C. Wolton, Mrs. J. G. Strawn, Mrs. Clark Green, Mrs. C. A. Goodie, Mrs. Crawford, Miss Dorothy Lukeman, Mrs. Thomas Heaton, Miss Bess Harrison, Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton, Mrs. Fred Eyr, Mrs. A. T. Capps, Mrs. A. C. ELKS' VOD-VIL AT THE RAND THEATRE

(By Edmund Munger)

The long-anticipated vod-vil entertainment sponsored by the Elks of this city is now a thing of the past. The second and final performance was given last evening at the Grand Theatre before an audience that tested the capacity of the house, and the general opinion of those who attended either or both performances was that the entertainment had been a real success.

At eight fifteen promptly the overture, written especially for this occasion, began and by its infectious rhythms and smoothness of performance prepared the spectators well for what was to follow.

Mr. Homer Wood gave the opening number, in novel fashion with vigor and excellent voice quality, and the Elks' chorus sang several numbers with even greater finish and better tone than at the concert in March. Mrs. Wilder sang with much charm and abandon, revealing astonishing power and dramatic verve in the stirring "Faust" number.

Mrs. Hackett, Short and Carroll displayed unusual talent in both solo and ensemble work.

Miss Hackett sang for the first time in public since her study in Chicago and her voice showed much color and artistry.

The "Bit of Rhythm" done by Rufe and Harlequins was good in itself and made more effective by vaude costumes.

Miss Saradee showed herself possessed of the genuine vaudeville spirit in this number, and Mr. Viera used the piano most skillfully and brilliantly in jazz selections.

Miss Bridgewater's voice seems peculiarly adapted for such songs as the ballad "Love Sends a Little Rose," which was featured in all the acts.

Mr. Drummond deserves much credit for not only his delightful singing and good dancing and acting, but for the window display cards used to advertise the vod-vil. We are told that his assistance in rehearsing was invaluable, and certainly his act with the Colleen was one of the best of the evening.

In the sketch presented by the "Salon Singers" the climax of the evening was reached. Mrs. Brown, stunningly gowned, sang as only she can sing, with beautiful tone and heart-scaring fervor. Miss Armstrong lent her splendid contralto to the ensemble, delivering also a solo with power and rich quality. Mr. Wilder showed that he would fit well the leading role in "The Bohemian Girl" and Mr. Lovejoy gave support and "pep" to the whole act with his superb voice and sense of dramatic meaning. Mr. Wesner was an excellent accompanist.

Mr. De Bolt and his band compare favorably with many bands in the Orpheum circuit. Mr. Parker showed what a trombone is capable of in his solo part and Mr. Jeffries added much to the pleasing quality of the act with his saxophone, while Mr. Day proved the versatility of the tuba.

Mr. Harney sang for the first time in public and revealed a tenor voice of sterling timbre.

In "Home Town Antics" Miss Tull gave the audience a happy ten minutes. She has a genuine gift for comedy and possesses a lovely voice as well as unusual magnetism.

The dancing of Messrs Mallory and Watson was quite inimitable and fitted in perfectly with the rest of the program, making an entertaining interlude.

The evening ended with a short minstrel show, in which Messrs. Reynolds, Wanamaker, Potter and DeBolt shone as black-face comedians, and Mr. Skinner covered himself with glory as a vocal soloist. Jacksonville will be pleased to hear him again. Commendatory mention must be made of the accompanying orchestra, which was an indispensable asset in the evening's performance.

To write a review of this show without speaking of Mr. Lovejoy, its director, would be like criticizing "Hamlet" without mentioning the hero. In every number, his vigorous, artistic hand was apparent, and the admirable finish of the musical numbers as well as the pleasing mounting of the stage and the colorful costuming, was due largely to his untiring efforts. It can be said without fear of contradiction that never in Jacksonville has there been presented a better amateur performance of vaudeville.

Instead of 24 movable bones, you would never need a Chiropractic Adjustment.

So long as the spine has to bend to every angle of the compass to meet all the requirements of the body, it will be subjected at times to undue jolts, strains, jars, etc., which will cause one or more vertebrae to slip slightly out of alignment, producing pressure on a nerve trunk. The part of the body supplied by it cannot get the full amount of brain energy and will become weak and diseased.

Pennsylvania Hard Coal For 1923

The eastern states have just gone through their greatest coal shortage. There is no assurance that the spring and summer tonnage will ever get caught up with the demand in 1923.

On September 1st the Present Mine Wage Scale on Hard Coal Expires

The hard coal miners want more money. Their low day pay scale is about $5.00. The low day scale for soft coal miners is about $7.50. This is what the hard coal miners are asking for. It looks like more money and higher priced coal or a strike. Take your pick and take your chances.

Get Your Hard Coal Early and You Are Safe. Prices will not change much this year. The most important factor now in anthracite is that of getting it. It will be impossible to make up the lost tonnage and the east will be given the preference. So the wise householder will get his coal now while it can be obtained.

PRODUCE MARKET REVIEW
There is a lessened demand for eggs for storage, and with increased receipts, the markets have eased off and are closing dull and easy. Due to warmer weather, buyers will be more critical in purchases. To bring top prices, eggs should be gathered daily, kept cool, and marketed frequently.

There has been a little better trading in live poultry, especially in the eastern markets, which closed a little firmer than a week ago.

It is necessary to make heavy withdrawals of poultry from storage to take care of the demand for current use.

Due to the backward season, the buttermake is not increasing as fast as trade requirements. A little firmer feeling in the market was helped by colder weather and snow during the middle of the week.

Heavy receipts are expected to reach the market next week, which will probably cause some revision in the price quotations. Today, May 11, Chicago Market on Standards is 42 cents, a week ago 41 cents, and 33 1/2 cents a year ago.

Many buyers are now beginning to grade cream, paying a lower price for cream which will not make at least 90 score butter.

Spain Wants 28,000 Teachers
Madrid—The Spanish nation finds extreme difficulty in obtaining elementary school teachers, of whom a further 28,000 are required in order to provide the millions of illiterate children with education.

The reason for the shortage is the small salary offered to elementary educators, who begin with only 2,000 pesetas yearly, and many with great good luck reach 2500 after 25 years' service. There are naturally some posts in the profession which are better paid, but these are few and far between, numbering only 142. The highest paid is remunerated with 8,000 pesetas yearly.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

There will be a Senior violin recital on Thursday evening, May 17th by Suzanne Rinehart assisted by Frederica Balch, soprano. The public is cordially invited.

Miss Sapio and Miss Horsbrugh have been invited to give a joint recital at the W. E. A. P. radio station, New York on the evening of June 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart, Suzanne Rinehart and Miss Sapio and Miss Horsbrugh motored to Waverly on Monday to visit the Community High school. Miss Rinehart gave a short program of violin numbers at the morning assembly, which was received most enthusiastically and after which the visitors were taken over the school and were present at some of the classes.

The programs for the Children's festival on May 24, 25 and 26, are unusually interesting and varied. Demonstrations will be given by the different classes and their teacher and an award made to the pupil having done the most faithful practice. Miss Sapio will also give two prizes to those children who have the best scrap-books and the books will be passed around to the audience to see the interesting material gathered. Melody writing will be another new feature of the demonstration while the members of the Junior String Ensemble will give proof of their training in two pieces arranged for violin quartet.

Mrs. Horsbrugh will be at home to several I. W. C. friends on May 13 when Suzanne Rinehart will be heard in several of her recital numbers.

Katherine Erison and Margaret Curtis gave piano solos at the last meeting of the girl's club at the high school.

Patricia Speith was heard in piano solos at a benefit evening given on Thursday by the Christian Endeavor of Northminster church.

COMPANY TREATS TELEPHONE POLES

Illinois Telephone Co. Uses Creosote to Preserve Poles—Large Number Placed on Line Near Murrayville

The Illinois Telephone Co. is employing creosote to make their poles last a long time. Recently twenty-six poles, which had been thoroughly creosoted from top to bottom, were put up near Murrayville.

It is estimated that poles thus treated will last indefinitely, as the creosote preserves the wood. It is also used in treating the hollow wooden pipes which protect the underground cables.

In order to treat the poles with creosote, they are loaded on steel cars and run into an air-tight room. This compartment is then flooded with creosote at great pressure, and the poles are soaked thru and thru with the fluid. However, if the poles are to be only treated at the butts and the tops, this may be done with a paint brush. A hot, dry summer day is the best time for this work, when the poles are perfectly dry. Under these conditions a gallon of creosote may be brushed into the butt of one pole.

LEGEND OF KING SOLOMON
Famous Monarch's Magic Carpet is One of the Best Known—Concerning Angel of Death.
A well-known Mohammedan myth is about King Solomon and a magic carpet. The legend is to the effect that Solomon, in his intense pride in his horses and chariots, which were a dubious and half-forbidden innovation among the adjuncts of Jewish royalty, had once been surprised in the midst of a review by the voice of the muezzin (Eastern legends are indifferent about anachronisms) and the summons to the evening prayer. Not knowing how to attend in time to this religious duty, Solomon magnificently consecrated all his 40,000 horses to Allah and his service. In reward for this sacrifice, Allah presented Solomon with a magic carpet, which would at a wish, transport to any distance the person who sat upon it.

A "cranky" stove is responsible for many a late and badly cooked dinner.
However good a cook you may be, unless you can trust your stove things are sure to go wrong.
The Florence Oil Cook Stove is worthy of the best cook. By means of a regulator the heat from the Florence burners can be easily turned up or down as it is needed. This means you can roast, boil, bake and fry with a different degree of heat for each article. You can cook to a nicety and your meals will be on time.
To start the clean intense flame of the Florence you have only to turn the regulator and apply a lighted match to the Asbestos starting ring.
Come in and we will show you just how easy it is to operate. Burns kerosene—most inexpensively fuel.
Payment of $1.00 now, balance easy payments, delivers any Florence Oil Stove. Use it while you pay. 2 burner stove $19.00

MANY OUTLETS FOR GENIUS
Interesting to Note What a Perusal of the Patent Office Gazette Will Disclose.
Mouse traps were selected by a philosopher as the subject for his illustration of the esteem of inventive genius. If he were alive today he would probably be a constant and thoughtful reader of the Patent Office Gazette, one of the most matter-of-fact publications of our time, remarks the Nation's Business.
In a single issue he would observe, not only mouse traps, but contrivances for pretty much the whole range of modern activity. "Fishing tools" to use in oil wells appear next to live-bait boxes for the real disciples of Isaac Walton. Apparatus for making petroleum increase its yield in gasoline stands next to a new powder puff. A shoe heel and a dish washer go together. A car dumper which laughs at 50 tons and a sure means of catching cockroaches face each other. Out of the great collection of developments of ingenuity appearing week by week in the severe type of the Patent Office Gazette is likely to come much of the progress of the future.

Blind Spots.
The world has its "blind spots" for thunder and lightning, says a bulletin of the National Geographical society. The brilliant flash of lightning and the crackle and rumble of thunder would be as impossible of conception by many Eskimos as would "solid water" by equatorial savages.
In general the frequency of thunderstorms decreases as one goes north, until within the Arctic and Antarctic Circles they seldom occur.
When Katmai volcano, on the Alaskan peninsula, erupted in 1912, some of the adult natives of the vicinity were more terrified at the lightning and thunder that accompanied the dust clouds than at the possibility of being buried by ash, because they had nothing in their lifelong experience by which to judge the blinding and deafening noise from the skies.
Battle for Fruit of Durian Tree.
Desperate fights over the ownership of durian trees are of yearly occurrence in the Malay peninsula. Sometimes, when a tree has been found near a borderline, entire villages have been wiped out in the struggle to possess it.
It is impossible to compare the fruit of the durian tree with its extraordinary odor and flavor, to any other. The fruit is creamlike in substance. If the meat of a banana were squashed and mixed with an equal quantity of rich cream, a small quantity of chocolate and enough garlic to lend a strong taste to the whole, the result would be about the nearest possible approach to the flavor and consistency of the durian. At the same time, the flavor is extremely delicate and, of course, indescribably rich.
Luminous Paints.
The luminous ingredient in paints is usually either calcium sulphide, barium or strontium carbonate or sulphate, or mixture of these chemicals may be used. An example of a luminous paint, giving a violet, is as follows: 100 parts of strontium carbonate, 100 parts of sulphur, 0.5 parts each of potassium chloride and sodium chloride. These are heated an hour to 75 minutes to about 2372 degrees F. The paint is prepared by mixing this with pure linseed oil.
Usage of Language.
"The usage of him! Says my grammar is so poor I can't write subtitles."
"Oh, well, show him up. Write a successful song."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
Playing the Ponies.
"What does Flubdub do when the racing season is over?"
"Finds a merry-go-round to bet on. I understand."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
